NEW DEAL SEEKS ADDITIONAL FUNDS FOR WPA PROGRAM

Roosevelt Tells Reporters $200,000,000 Will Be Taken From Previous Allocations Made to Slow-Moving Agencies.

HOUSE APPROVES DEFICIENCY BILL

No Decision Reached on Whether New Taxes Will Be Levied To Meet War Bonus Payment.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Shelving for the moment discussion of additional relief appropriations, the New Deal dug around today for an extra $200,000,000 in loan funds to help out the Works Progress Administration until July 1.

President Roosevelt told reporters the money would be taken from allocations previously made to slow-moving agencies, which are being financing out of the $4,000,000,000 work relief fund. The total to be spent on relief this fiscal year, he said, will not be increased.

The President reported that about $500,000,000 in taxes would be necessary to finance the administration's new farm program now pending in the senate. He added no decision had been reached on whether new taxes would have to be levied to meet soldier bonus payments.

Although congressional leaders expected the tax bill to be ready by the first of next week, Mr. Roosevelt said the measure was still in the study stage.

While the new farm bill was being debated briefly in the senate, the house approved a conference agreement on the $367,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill and sent it to the White House. It carries $296,185,000 to pay for crop adjustment contracts under the old AAA. The measure also provided funds for administrative expenses in arranging to pay the bonus and for the social security program.

Relief Appropriation.
In relief circles it was said Mr. Roosevelt probably would not ask congress for a new relief appropriation for several months. Competent sources have forecast this amount would be less than $2,000,000,000. The President's forecast has estimated that $1,000,000,000 of the $4,000,000,000 fund, although allocated, would remain unspent on July 1.

Fair Tax Is Assured Intangibles Holders

"Fair and reasonable evaluation of intangibles" was promised yesterday by Councilman Max M. Cuba following a public hearing Thursday.

There appeared every probability a committee of council, before which more than a score urged that intangibles be accepted on an equitable basis, will render an adverse report on Councilman J. Frank Beck's resolution to put council definitely behind an established scale of acceptance, but there also was every indication all parties will be satisfied with the ultimate decision of the committee.

Details of the 1936 intangibles taxing program will be evolved at further conferences between members of the tax committee and city tax assessors.

Registration Closes At 5 O'Clock Today

Record for registration in Fulton county was already broken yesterday and thousands of others are expected to put their names on the list before the close at 5 o'clock this afternoon, Tax Collector T. Earl Suttles said yesterday.

He estimated more than 45,000 residents of the county will be eligible to cast ballots in the March 11 primary by nightfall. The number is the largest ever to be qualified voters in Fulton county.

Suttles said 6,000 persons registered Thursday and yesterday at his office, and probably 10,000 more had made themselves eligible through the county at other registration places. Last year 32,000 persons were eligible to cast ballots but not half that many voted.

Hewitt W. Chambers, secretary of the Fulton county democratic executive committee, will be at the election headquarters, 608 Peters building, until noon today to receive entries in the various races, he said yesterday. Entries close at noon.

ALVIN DOWNS JURY UNABLE TO AGREE

Veniremen Are Locked Up for Night After Deliberating Case 6 Hours.

For the second time, the fate of Alvin Downs last night rested in the hands of a Fulton superior court jury, which took the case at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Downs was charged with the murder of Mrs. Myrtle Carter, secretary to his father, C. C. Downs, locksmith, who he also killed May 1, 1935, in the Downs shop on Alabama street.

The jury, unable to reach an agreement, went to bed at 9 o'clock last night. They stood divided, 10 to 2, it was understood, but the subject of their difference was not known.

Judge John L. Humphries, presiding at the trial which began Tuesday morning, charged the jury they could find Downs guilty of murder, guilty of voluntary manslaughter, or if they believed him insane at the moment of the double shooting they could find him not guilty.

Assistant Solicitor John A. Boykin, who made the closing argument for the state yesterday, asked that "justice be done," but did not demand the death penalty.

Assistant Solicitor J. Walter LeCraw opened argument for the state. Paul Etheridge and B. L. Milling, defense attorneys, made eloquent pleas whose difference was not known.

The defense contends that years of brutal abuse by his father drove Alvin insane temporarily and that he shot his father and Mrs. Carter while his mind was under a cloud. Medical testimony was introduced by the defense to show that a man normally would be sane insane by the treatment suffered by Downs for years.

The defendant Thursday made a dramatic plea to the jury to "turn me loose."

Downs sat in the courtroom last night, nervous as he waited for some action by the jurors.

He ate a light meal while the jury was at dinner but said he had no appetite.

He was more composed yesterday as arguments were made by state and defense attorneys.

He recited his life history in an attempt to explain the events leading up to his distraught state of mind on the day of the shooting.

LeCraw dwelt at length in his argument on the fact the defense brought out the temporary insane angle in this trial but did not stress it in the first one.

Judge Humphries declared last night the jury was deadlocked.

BORAH TO WIDEN NOMINATION DRIVE IN NORTHWEST U.S.

Political Situation Is Accentuated as Roosevelt and Republican Candidate Meet at Lunch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—While opposition to his candidacy for the republican presidential nomination was becoming more manifest among party conservatives, Senator Borah, of Idaho, late today projected a widening of his campaign into the Pacific northwest.

The confused political situation had been freshly accentuated by a luncheon conference between President Roosevelt and the Idahoan.

"A pleasant conference. We didn't omit any subjects. I have no news," the senator summarized to reporters on leaving.

Back at the capitol, he said of the meeting only that current legislation, including neutrality, had been discussed.

"Did he offer you a place on the ticket," a reporter inquired jocularly.

"Not specifically," Borah replied with a smile.

The White House said nothing. Members of congress recalled that the Borah visit constituted a continuation of conferences initiated by the President with independents. Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska; Couzens, republican, Michigan; and La Follette, progressive, Wisconsin, were called in individually on recent days. The political significance, if any, was speculative.

May Enter Oregon.
At a press conference, Borah reported he was "seriously considering" entering the Oregon primary May 15. He had discussed the question with Senators McNary and Steiwer, republicans, of that state.

He considered Ralph Williams, the G. O. P. committeeman from Oregon and vice chairman of the committee, "friendly" to his nomination and thought "we would win."

Some of Borah's friends already had taken for granted he would go into Oregon, as well as other western and northern states.

POLICE PROBE END IS BELIEVED NEAR

Committee Members Fail To Adduce Any New Evidence in Inquiry.

Evidence taking in the police committee's probe of alleged irregularities of the department was believed concluded last night as a three-hour session, during which four members of the November-December grand jury testified, failed to produce any new facts which need further amplification.

The committee adjourned until early next week, and will hold a meeting to determine what steps shall be taken as soon as Alderman William H. Joyner, committee member, who is ill, is able to sit in.

Indications last night were that the decision of the committee will be made at an executive session, and that the grand jury will be discharged.

Tate Takes Responsibility.
C. C. Tate, chairman of the special police investigating committee of the grand jury, assumed full responsibility for the charges that policemen witness numbers game pay-offs, that they fail to book cases against bootleggers and that two policemen perjured themselves in an effort to obtain a conviction.

B. Palmer, P. A. Starnes and E. L. Smith, other members of the grand jury committee, disclaimed responsibility for the scathing indictments of the police officers and departmental operations which were contained in the presentations.

Tate and Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant engaged in a short-lived but lively tilt over an alleged remark of the chief.

New York Dressmakers Vote Strike After Thunderous Protest Session

Workers Authorize Leaders To Call Walkout Whenever Ready; 105,000 Expected To Join, Tying Up Easter Production.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(AP)—With a thunderous roar, 25,000 union dressmakers ratified a strike proposal today and paved the way for a walkout that threatens to tie up the industry in the midst of spring production.

James Madison Square Garden jammed and overflowing into other meeting halls, the needleworkers authorized the general strike committee to call them off their jobs whenever they see fit.

Union leaders declined to set a date for the threatened walkout, but Julius Hochman, manager of the joint board, said it was "imminent and inevitable."

Altogether, he said the strike would involve 105,000 workers in metropolitan New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. Approximately 68,000 are employed in the teaming garment district of Manhattan.

The union demands a new agreement that would eliminate what they call the "cut-throat competition" phases of the jobber-contractor system, together with shorter hours and higher wages.

Prior to the mass meetings, which were linked together by a private broadcasting system, there were reports that the union leaders had promised Mayor F. H. LaGuardia to defer action until Wednesday.

The reports sprang up after a conference with the mayor at city hall. At any event, it was deemed probable that no strike call would be issued before Sunday, since Saturday is a full holiday in most of the shops.

While waiting for their leaders to arrive from the city hall conference, the Madison Square Garden crowds sang, marched and shouted for a strike.

They had left their jobs during the afternoon to attend the meeting. Hundreds were unable to squeeze their way into the Garden turned to the overflow halls.

They listened to messages from Presidents William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, and John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, promising support.

Hochman, addressing the crowd, said: "The union is always ready to settle its differences with the employers peacefully. We are not willing, however, to be forced to do so."

U. S. STANDS FIRM ON SHIP DEMANDS

American Delegates Reject Proposal for Scrapping of Big Cruisers.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The United States stood firm in demanding 35,000-ton battleships and 10,000-ton cruisers tonight in the face of British, French and Italian proposals before a technical subcommittee of the four-power naval conference for smaller ships.

The first discussion of the qualitative limitations brought to the fore-front a week-long simmering clash of viewpoints. Observers doubt the disagreement could be compromised.

Should the anticipated deadlock not be broken, the committee is expected to refer the matter to the full conference for decision. The conference, in the two months it has been in session has arrived at only one tentative agreement—the matter of yearly exchange of building programs in advance and notification of construction.

The development today, while not a hope, was welcomed by the Americans since it brought the conference back to tangible matters after a week of backstage maneuvering, caused by Anglo-French differences over the question of German participation in the conference.

Admiral William H. Standley, presenting the United States' views on qualitative limitation, said 35,000-ton battleships are necessary for the United States which was willing, however, to reduce gun sizes from 16 to 14 inches, provided the others are agreeable.

Standley likewise refused to commit the United States to the scrapping of big cruisers, although he intimated that a building holiday of this type, proposed by the British, might be acceptable for a definite period of years.

The French demanded limitation of battleships to 27,500 tons and 12-inch guns. They were strongly supported by the Italians.

Great Britain's representatives declared they favored 25,000 tons, 12-inch guns and smaller cruisers, but did not repudiate the compromise proposals which would limit the United States to 35,000 tons as a basis for discussion.

American delegates said the huge area their ships must patrol made it impossible to limit the battleships to a size small enough for long cruising radius.

Playing 'Bug' Continues Simple Despite 'Heat,' Even for Stranger

Despite official statements that "the heat is on," with the right approach and the requisite cash, the "bug" can be played in Atlanta today as openly as a youngster can roller-skate.

A Constitution reporter proved this conclusively, yesterday, by watching through the "mush" of melting snow and sleet in the downtown section and "playing the bug" in a number of places.

ROOSEVELT DRIVE TO GET UNDER WAY HERE ON MONDAY

Allen To Demand Call for Primary; To Speak at Dublin Rally Today; Committee Summoned.

President Roosevelt's re-election campaign will be formally launched in Georgia over the week-end, Campaign Manager Marion H. Allen announced yesterday at his home at Milledgeville, from where he issued a call for a meeting of the Georgia Roosevelt advisory committee to meet with him at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Henry Grady hotel in Atlanta.

Allen said he was desirous of having the entire committee present at Monday's session in order that the drive in behalf of the President might get under way without delay.

Meanwhile the Roosevelt supporters planned activity on two fronts today.

Returning to Milledgeville from Savannah, where with Judge A. B. Lovett, chairman of the Roosevelt advisory committee, he conferred with National Chairman James A. Farley, Manager Allen announced that he would file this morning with Chairman Hugh Howell, of the state democratic executive committee, a formal demand for a preferential primary in Georgia.

This afternoon the campaign manager will go to Dublin, where he will be a speaker at a district Roosevelt rally scheduled for that city, which will be presided over by Judge Earl Campbell.

Takes Charge Next Week.
Allen returned to Milledgeville after the Albany conference and said that after winding up a few private affairs in his home, he would come to Atlanta next week to assume active charge of the Roosevelt forces. He added that he planned to make no more statements concerning the attitude of Chairman Howell regarding a meeting of the executive committee.

"From now on the Roosevelt side of the picture will be filled with action," the manager declared. "We are ready to go."

MINERS VOTE AID IN COAL SHORTAGE

Union Authorizes Over-time Production To Replenish U. S. Supplies.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—With a blizzard swirling outside, the United Mine Workers' convention today authorized an overtime production of coal tomorrow to cope with the fuel shortage emergency.

The miners, however, coupled a vote to extend the week's production beyond the 35-hour limit with another ballot to demand a 30-hour week in the next bituminous wage and hour contracts.

The closing hours of the convention also saw John L. Lewis, U. M. W. president, vote the action of the convention yesterday which boosted his $12,000 salary to a $25,000 annual figure.

Waving aside the protests of delegates against his refusal to take the $13,000 increase, Lewis said that the international officers did not want the "least sign of discontent" in the organization over salaries.

Philip Murray, vice president, and Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer, also rejected increases from $9,000 to $13,000 each.

"Your officers will carry on with all their strength and ability at their present salaries," Lewis told the convention.

Lewis urged public authorities to see that none of the coal mined to-morrow was diverted to industrial use. In allowing miners to work more than 35 hours a week specified in the present agreements, Lewis said, the union wanted to make sure no families would suffer from cold because they were unable to get coal. But he added: "The United Mine Workers do not intend to allow this situation to break down their agreements. We don't intend to allow the operator to work when he finds he can sell a carload of coal to industry and then cry aloud he has found a poor family that needs fuel to heat a home."

30-Hour Week.
The convention instructed the international officers to make "every possible effort" to get a 30-hour week.

JUDGE HORACE M. HOLDEN.

JUDGE H.M. HOLDEN DIES IN 71ST YEAR

Former Justice of Supreme Court Passes at Crawfordville Home.

Judge Horace M. Holden, former justice of the state supreme court, legislator and noted attorney, died early yesterday at his home in Crawfordville, Taliaferro county, at the age of 70. He had been ill 11 days, although his condition was not regarded as serious until several days ago.

Judge Holden was born in Warren county, Georgia, March 5, 1866, the son of William Franklin Holden, a prominent citizen of that county and time.

He attended the local schools in the community where he was born and in 1883 entered the University of Georgia and was graduated two years later. In 1886 he was admitted to the bar in Taliaferro county and began the active practice of law that year in Crawfordville.

Always a staunch democrat, he was prominent in political affairs. He was a member of the state legislature in 1894 and in 1896 became a member of the state democratic campaign committee. In 1900 he was named a member of the democratic executive committee for the tenth congressional district and for many years he was chairman of the committee in his home county.

In 1900 he was elected superior court judge of the northern circuit and was re-elected in 1904 without opposition and in 1907 was appointed by Governor Hoke Smith as associate justice of the state supreme court, which post he held until 1911, when he resigned to resume the practice of law.

Several years ago, Judge Holden moved to Atlanta to enter the law practice with his son, Frank A. Holden, and in late years has divided his time between Atlanta and his home place at Crawfordville, where he had large interests, farming and otherwise.

Judge Holden was married June 1, 1893, to Miss Mary Corry, daughter of Judge William Corry, of Greene county, and a grandniece of Alexander H. Stephens, vice president of the Confederacy. Mrs. Holden has long been prominent in U. D. C. circles in the state.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by one son, Frank A. Holden, of Atlanta, who is state director of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation; three daughters, Mrs. L. M. Paul, of Perry, Ga.; Mrs. Harry Johnston, of Palm Beach, Fla.; and Mrs. Charles Pagan of Washington, D. C.

Judge Holden lived in Athens and was president of the Athens Bar Association. Funeral services will be held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon (E. 12) at the Crawfordville Baptist church.

NEW JERSEY GUARDS Plan 'Mercy Bombing'

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 7.—(AP)—The New Jersey national guard aviation unit today planned a mercy "bombing" expedition over the ice-covered woodlands of northern New Jersey.

Plans were to send three planes to the relief of distressed birds early next week, when the airman will practice "bomping" with 5,000 one-pound bags of grain.

Major Robert L. Copsey, commander of the 44th aviation division, agreed to the plan when representatives of the Consolidated Sportsmen of New Jersey told him hundreds of birds were dying of starvation.

PASSAGE OF PLAN BY 2-1 MAJORITY SEEN BY ROBINSON

Roosevelt Estimates Approximately $500,000,000 in Taxes Will Be Necessary To Finance New U. S. Farm Program.

FOES WILL RESUME ASSAULT MONDAY

House Minority Report on Bill Opposes Undefined Power Delegated to Agriculture Secretary

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Despite bi-partisan contentions of illegality, a forecast came today from Democratic Leader Robinson that the senate would pass the soil conservation-subsidy bill Monday or Tuesday by a two to one majority.

The Arkansas senator made his prophecy after the senate had listened to a single democratic speech in favor of the legislation and recessed until Monday because a heavy snow storm kept attendance down to a bare quorum.

Opponents who yesterday called the bill "unconstitutional" and a "mere subterfuge" will resume their attack Monday.

As the storm-bound senate failed to make much headway, President Roosevelt again estimated $500,000,000 in taxes would be necessary to finance the new farm program, but told his press conference the details of the levies were still being studied.

Shortly after the press conference, the house sent to the White House the deficiency bill carrying, among other items, $296,185,000 for benefit payments to farmers who held AAA contracts before the supreme court threw out the whole agricultural adjustment program.

Minority Contentions.
Previously, seven republican members of the house agriculture committee filed a minority report on a soil conservation measure similar to the one before the senate, declaring it lodged too much undefined power in the secretary of agriculture and would work to the detriment of dairy interests.

Signed by Representatives Andressen, Minnesota; Kinzer, Pennsylvania; Tobey, New Hampshire; Marshall, Ohio; Goodwin, New York; Hope, Kansas, and Gilchrist, Iowa, the report recommended:

Repeal of the reciprocal tariff law which they said had operated "to the detriment of American agriculture."

Legislation giving the farmer the "full benefit of the domestic market,"

ARMY RULE PREVENTS
M'CLOSKEY PROMOTIONSen. Reynolds Will Not Oppose Elevation of Other Officers.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—A matter of two months was said today to have been the reason Brigadier General Manus McCloskey, commanding officer at Fort Bragg, N. C., was not recommended for promotion to the rank of a major general.

Because General McCloskey is within two years and four months of the retirement age, whereas one of the requirements for promotion is that an officer must be eligible for two and a half years foreign service, his name was not included on the War Department's list of elevations.

Senator Robert R. Reynolds, democrat, North Carolina, who had opposed promotions of other army officers because General McCloskey was not proposed for higher rank, said this was the explanation given him by Secretary of War Dern.

Reynolds today withdrew his objections.

"I think the order is manifestly unfair to General McCloskey but in the face of it I do not feel I should oppose promotions of other generals," he said.

Reynolds praised McCloskey as "one of the most celebrated generals in the army" and said he was deserving of higher rank regardless of the new order.

The retirement age of a general is 64 years.

DRESSMAKERS VOTE
TO STRIKE IN GOTHAM

ever, to spend days and nights haggling over insignificant details when the employers are merely stalling for time, so that they can stock up for the spring season.

"We charge the dress employers with the same type of bad faith in their negotiations as they have shown for two and a half years in their eagerness to violate the agreement. . . . We have no more time for sparring. The fight is on. The gong has rung for the main bout—and through the general strike we shall deliver the knockout blow."

David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, said he had promised the mayor to withhold action a day or two "if there is any chance for a peaceful settlement."

But he said, "We are ready to call a strike within two hours" if there are no such prospects.

Dubinsky said that despite the high hourly rates of pay that the manufacturers emphasize, the average dressmaker actually earns less than $1,000 a year.

"The need for a shorter work week is imperative," Hochman said, "and the justice of a rise in earnings is equally compelling in the face of a pronounced increase in the cost of living."

"But even more commanding are the union's requests for limitation of contractors to do away with jobber, stimulated competition at the expense of workers' earnings—for a relaxation compelling settlement of piece rates direct with the jobber, the real employer of labor—and for a sane system of price settlement to replace the present guess-as-guess-can system."

The union demands a revision of the system by which jobbers, who style, cut and sell the dresses, pass out to contractors the job of sewing the dresses together. The workers contend the competition for the contracts is so keen it detracts from their earnings.

Assuring Mayor LaGuardia of cooperation in efforts to bring about a peaceful settlement, Morris Kolchin, executive director of the Affiliated Dress Manufacturers, representing "inside" shops with about 38,000 employees, said:

"There is no question now but that the union is preparing for a strike, and that any steps toward peace might impair the intensity of these preparations. We are not making any plans for a conflict whatsoever."

"We are unwilling to believe the effort of the mayor to defer a strike until every avenue of a peaceful settlement of the issue has been employed will be in vain."

"We have lived up to the letter and spirit of the agreement," he added, "apparently with reference to the working agreement that expired January 31, and we intend to continue doing so."

DISTILLERS STRIKERS
TO RETURN IN PERKIN

PERKIN, Ill., Feb. 7.—(AP)—The last labor dispute in this community because of the general walkout terminated yesterday was settled tonight by an agreement accepted by the American Distilling Company and its workers.

Pickets, who had surrounded the distillery for weeks were withdrawn after union leaders received word that a contract between the firm and plant representatives had been signed in Peoria. The company announced it would reopen Monday with union men eligible for employment.

More than 100 members of the union employed in the distillery, will be subject to call back to work Monday. Between 700 and 1,200 persons are normally employed at the plant, most of them non-union workers, strike leaders said.

Cat That Turned Detective Is Given Badge

"Detective" Snooky, the Persian cat that is credited with "putting the finger" on James McDonald, Atlanta, negro accused of burglary, is shown receiving a police badge from Officer T. M. Parker. A store owned by Glenn P. Mallory, at 224 Central avenue, was broken into by a burglar who tossed Snooky out into the cold. The next morning the owner saw Snooky spit and scratch at McDonald, an employee who had been on friendly terms with the cat. His suspicions aroused, he had the negro arrested. McDonald subsequently confessed to the burglary, according to detectives. Photo by the Associated Press.

Record Number of Divorces Heard;
422 Decrees Granted in Five Days

A record number of divorces were granted during the past five days in Fulton superior court.

The mill ground out 422 decrees from a calendar of 525 cases, the largest divorce docket ever scheduled in Fulton county.

Judge E. D. Thomas presided as wives and husbands sought divorce from the domestic strife which invariably was detrimental to their health, causing each and every one to lose weight.

Strange and peculiar were some of the complaints of the persons for whom wedded bliss had changed to bonded suffering. However, most of the causes for divorce as related to Judge Thomas were the usual standard, drunkenness, cruelty, desertion and failure to support.

A broken romance of school days was aired by a young husband, seeking to sever the bands binding him to his "childhood sweetheart." They were married, he said, while the girl was still a student in high school.

The secret marriage was revealed to no one until she finished school and then they began living together. The husband declared. Their bliss lasted not one week and within two weeks she told him she did not love him and never would, he said. Last week, two years after the marital mistake, the first decree of divorce was granted him.

A woman told the court she went to bed one night at her home while her husband was out of the house. In the gray hours of dawn she awoke to find him in bed, too, but he also had his paramour with him, she declared. The rose of romance faded quickly then.

A deaf mute sought release from her deaf mute husband because he was cruel to her. The court needed an interpreter to understand her complaints.

A "lady wrestler" got her first decree during the week. She stages wrestling bouts throughout the south and is said to be considered a top-notch in the rough-and-tumble profession, which she follows. She charged her husband was cruel to her.

Five women obtained decrees when they testified their husbands so far forgot dignity that they hurled pieces of furniture.

Many swore their husbands were continually drunk. It was perhaps the commonest plea the distressed wives made. One divorce seeker declared her husband once went on a spree lasting a year and almost before he was finished with that he began another of a similar period. This was too much, she said.

The undivided divorce calendar, heard once every two months, contains first and second decrees.

Nearly 100 cases called by Judge Thomas were not ready for hearing and were postponed until next calendar.

'Lionews,' in Vivid Word Picture,
Tells Agony of Death Car Driver

The Lions Club of Atlanta finds in this week's issues of Lionews, weekly publication of the club, a little article on reckless driving which would make anyone stop and think—or at least slow up and be careful.

The Lions Club has commended The Constitution Safety Council for its warning against recklessness and now it is time for the club to congratulate the Lions on having a writer who can make his results of recklessness so clearly impressive.

The article is reprinted from Lionews:

"Thrill Versus Chill."

"If you are a rational human being, read on. If not, further perusal of these lines is a waste of your good time and we suggest you lay this aside."

"But—have you ever sat at the steering wheel of a high-powered car, speeding along in that automatic way long practice at driving has accustomed you to, to then, suddenly, and sickeningly in the ten thousandth shaving of a second to the realization that an accident had arrived?"

"Have you ever experienced the shocking amount of resistance the soft body of a little child can send through the frame-work of your car, reaching the fiery pit of the stomach and freezing life in the veins as with brake and wheel you brought the car to a stop?"

Two quick Tilts.

"Have you ever felt the two quick tilts of the car as it passed over what had been, a split second before, a live and jovous human being?"

"If you haven't—good for you. And may your luck and skillful driving hold good."

"We happen to know a fellow this happened to, a fellow just as free of criminal intent as you. We stayed with him while he agonized in the self-torture of it could have been avoided. The fact that he was exercising moderate care, that his brakes were good, that he was sober, on the right side of the street—in fact, all the evidence favored him, except that it could have been avoided. It could have."

The Greater Thrill.

"There's a great thrill in driving and some excuse in a hum-drum life for seeking thrills. But we can testify that the thrill of knowing alertness, care, consideration and the assumption of responsibility for self as well as others had averted such a painful experience out-weighs any 'kick' we know of. That is, if you are a rational human being, and on that premise you have consented to read these lines."

After reading that straight-forward and graphic appeal, any rational human being must feel an honest urge to drive more carefully.

Here is a suggestion:

LEFT TURN

should be a thoughtful and courteous person in other contacts with society and a discourteous and dangerous person while driving in traffic. Use the signals.

$50,000 IS ASKED
FOR TRAFFIC WORK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Congress was asked today for a $50,000 appropriation to permit Secretary Roper's accident prevention conference to begin work to obtain uniform traffic regulations throughout the nation.

A bill calling for this amount was introduced by Senator Moore, democrat, New Jersey, chairman of the conference and representative of the National Automobile Manufacturers Association.

The committee's first objective will be to obtain drivers' license laws in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Missouri, Montana, Ohio, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas and Wyoming.

CRASH VICTIM CARRIED TO HOSPITAL BY AIR

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 7.—(AP)—The first ambulance airplane ever to land in Mobile arrived today, bringing Howard Blish, 24-year-old machineist's mate, from St. Petersburg, Fla., to Marine hospital here.

The giant amphibian plane, Procyon, with Lieutenant W. D. Shields at the controls, left St. Petersburg shortly after noon, stopped at Pensacola, Fla., to refuel, and landed in Mobile river shortly after 4 p. m.

Immediately upon landing, the plane was taken in tow by the coast-guard boat AB-20, while Blish was transferred to a small boat and landed on the dock. A coast guard truck took the patient to the hospital.

Blish suffered a broken neck, crushed nose and internal injuries when a civilian plane in which he was riding cracked up at St. Petersburg on November 27. Since then he had been confined in a hospital in the Florida city.

JAPANESE PREPARING TO DEMAND 6 COUNTIESMongol Chief To Seek Control of Land Adjoining Chahar Province.

(Copyright, 1936, by United Press.)
TIENTSIN, Feb. 8.—(Saturday). (UP)—Manchu-Mongol forces under control of the Japanese army have massed more than 6,000 men near Changpei to reinforce a demand that they be given six counties of eastern Suiyuan province to add to territory they already control in Chahar province, according to Japanese press dispatches today.

Mongol cavalry is prepared to move into the disputed area next week if the demands of the pro-Japanese regime in part of Chahar are not granted.

The Manchu-Mongol forces, which include units of the regular Manchukuo army, are under direct command of Jodjank, Mongol chieftain, who has established headquarters at Changpei and obtained control of six counties in Chahar. He is assisted by Japanese advisers.

Nearby, the residents of Suiyuan he wants are just across the border from the areas he now controls.

Marshal Yen Shi-shan, pacification commissioner for Suiyuan, has ordered his troops in the disputed areas to resist any invasion by force.

According to one report 1,000 Mongol cavalrymen already have entered Suiyuan and established contact with friendly Mongol tribes.

The movement apparently is part of a general scheme allegedly ordered by agents of the Japanese Kwantung army to set up a pro-Japanese regime throughout Inner Mongolia and to add Suiyuan to this territory.

A representative of the Manchukuo-Mongol groups reportedly now is in Peiping attempting to obtain peaceful cessation by China of the five counties of Suiyuan "because the residents of these counties are blood brothers of the autonomous areas in Chahar which have declared their independence of the Chinese government in Nanking."

Chinese believe the movement is connected with the western Mongolia independence movement started some time ago by Prince Teh, reportedly with support of the Japanese army. They believe that if the Japanese military can control Inner Mongolia its plan for penetration of Outer Mongolia will be strengthened and that the Russians eventually will be ousted from that rich pastoral region.

ITEMIZED PHARR FEE
IS EXPECTED TODAYCounty Commissioners Will Scan Attorney's Account for Collecting Tax.

The itemized account of County Attorney Ralph Pharr's fee for collecting back taxes from the Coca-Cola International Corporation is expected to be delivered to the county commissioners this morning as they meet for an informal conference with the county auditor, James L. Respass.

At the regular session of the commission, the board members voted to have Pharr make the accounting of what was done with the $21,304 fee received by the county in 1935, which was a tax claim against the settlement of a tax claim against the holding corporation. The account was to be rendered within three days, today being the last of the stipulated period.

Dr. Charles R. Adams, chairman of the board, called the meeting today to discuss the account. The 1936 budget, which has already been tentatively set up by the auditor.

Commissioners George F. Longino and J. A. Ragsdale backed the move to require Pharr to render the itemized account.

The board is to hold another meeting soon to confer with Atlanta bankers concerning county finances which are endangered by lack of a state appropriations bill.

In the next soft coal wage and hour agreement, to negotiate the "best contract obtainable" as to wages and to try to replace present regional agreements with a single national contract to serve as an honorarium.

The present contracts expire March 31, 1937.

The anthracite districts' demand for their next contract were approved. The soft coal miners will ask a 30-hour week and pay boosts when their negotiations start February 24 in New York. Their present contract expires next March 31.

RULING GIVEN IN COBB
ON TAX LEVY ITEMS

MARIETTA, Ga., Feb. 7.—(AP)—The Cobb county grand jury has received an opinion from the county attorneys that only three of the usual 10 items constituting tax levies are unquestionably legal for 1936, because of the lack of a state appropriations bill.

The opinion, by the firm of Blair & Gardner, said legality of the other seven items was in doubt.

Items for levy regarded as legal beyond doubt are those provided for (1) payment of past due public debt; (2) working the roads; and (3) repair of courthouses, jails, bridges, ferries or other public improvements.

Only a special session of the legislature to enact an appropriations bill, or an expression from the state supreme court, can solve the situation, the attorneys told the grand jury.

'Foods on Parade' for Four Days
At Constitution Cooking SchoolMiss Ruth Chambers To Direct Entertaining Demonstrations
at Georgia Theater.

A date found marked on the engagement calendars of hundreds of Atlanta housewives is February 11-14, when "Foods on Parade," The Constitution's cooking school, will be presented at the Georgia theater.

The four-day program of Atlanta's finest cooking school will give to the city's dinner tables a year's supply of delicious dishes and zest and enjoyment to those who prepare them. Miss Ruth Chambers, who will conduct "Foods on Parade," will show Atlanta women how to take the drudgery out of cooking and how to create surprisingly delightful dishes in an unbelievably easy manner.

Economy is one of the features of "Foods on Parade." Economy of time as well as money is accomplished by using the recipes and the buying hints which Miss Chambers will describe.

As entertaining as a dramatic production, "Foods on Parade" should be attended by every Atlanta woman from a standpoint of enjoyment as well as for the invaluable instructions in the art of cooking.

A complete fashion show, displaying the latest spring and summer styles in dress and footwear and the most pleasing and modern types of coiffure arrangements, will precede the cooking school classes. Models will display stunning styles for the coming season, using the latest dress creations found in Gaylord's Dress Shop and new footwear from Connie's Shoe Store.

Beauty and becoming new coiffure creations, as developed in Mackay's beauty parlors, will be displayed by the models.

All cosmetics used by the models in their parade of new styles are from Lane Drug Stores, whose cosmetics are adept in determining just the right tints and shades for each individual woman.

Doors Open at 8.

The Georgia theater will open its doors to Atlanta women at 8 o'clock each morning during the four-day presentation, with the fashion show at 8:40 o'clock and the cooking school classes beginning at 9 o'clock and lasting until 10:45 o'clock.

The fact that Miss Chambers can give clear explanations and demonstrations of so many dishes in so short a time speaks for her expertness as a lecturer as well as her wide and thorough knowledge of the science of cookery.

Miss Chambers really needs no introduction to Atlanta women, as she is well known here from her previous work in the Food and Nutrition Division of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

She is a member of the staff of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, an organization devoted to bringing to the practical housewife the results of scientific study and research in cook-

Rubber 'Life-Line' Used To Feed
15-Ounce Baby in Crucial Period

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Fifteen-ounce Nancy Lee Vogt faced tonight what physicians described as a "crucial period."

The smallest infant of record here, born prematurely Sunday, took food through a rubber tube "life line" in place of the previously used medicine dropper.

Her feeding was increased from 30 to 45 drops an hour of mother's milk injected directly into the stomach through the tube.

Jaundice and rapid evaporation of moisture from the tiny body were reported by George Vood, hospital superintendent, to be the principal threats to the spark of life.

FATE OF ALVIN DOWNS
IN HANDS OF JURORS

He will keep the jury for some time in the case even if they do not at first think they can reach an agreement.

He pointed out the heavy expense of the two trials and intimated that the jury meditate on the case before being discharged if it is deadlocked. It was considered possible the jury will be held over the week-end if no decision is made today or tonight.

MARY KIRK BROWN
WEDS IN FLORIDA

Park Avenue Debutante Is Married to William Seymour.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 7.—(AP)—A romance that budded two short days ago blossomed into marriage early today for Mary Kirk Brown and William Seymour, both of Park Avenue, New York.

County Judge W. F. Blanton, whom the couple telephoned from the fashionable Beach and Tennis Club shortly after midnight, hurried to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julio C. Sanchez, taking the license with him, and performed the ceremony.

The 21-year-old bride, daughter of Mrs. Gloria Perry, whose marriage to the socially prominent Robert Alexander E. Martin, of New York, ended in divorce here last year, offered only this conventional comment on her new matrimonial venture:

"I'm very happy."

Her groom, a 28-year-old salesman for the New York and Hollywood jewelry firm of Trabert & Hoeffler, who has been the Sanchez' house guest for the last 10 days, remarked, laughing:

"I guess everybody ought to try it once. This is my first."

He said he had known Miss Brown, whose name was once linked with that of former Heavyweight Champion Max Baer, two years.

Friends said they met again at the Beach and Tennis Club two days ago, quickly "under the Florida moon."

Mrs. Sanchez' opinion—the romance flowered. Early today, to the excitement of the gay party at their table, they decided to be married and, hurriedly, the piano player along, they hurried to the Sanchez home, where the ceremony took place. Miss Brown's mother, who has an apartment here for the winter, was among those present.

GOUGE AND OVERTON
IN LABOR CONFERENCE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 7.—(AP)—George Gouge, of Atlanta, American Federation of Labor mediator, and

RUTH CHAMBERS.

SPECIALIST ON MEATS
TO LECTURE MONDAYR. O. Roth Will Describe Newest Types of 'Cuts' on Ansley Roof.

America's meat-buying habits have changed tremendously during recent years and new "styles" have appeared in meat cuts as well as in hats, dresses and motor cars, says R. O. Roth, specialist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, who will give a lecture and demonstration at 8 o'clock Monday night in the roof garden of the Ansley hotel.

Housewives, teachers, students, club members and all who are invited to hear Mr. Roth, whose lecture will precede the opening of "Foods on Parade," The Constitution's cooking school, for a four-day program, beginning Tuesday morning at the Georgia theater.

Asserting that never before has the homemaker had such a wealth of meat cuts available as today, Mr. Roth declares that more than 100 cuts of beef, pork and lamb are now on the market, whereas 10 to 15 years ago there were less than half that many.

Many economic but excellent cuts are rarely bought and often unknown to the average housewife, says Mr. Roth. These cuts and the best ways to use them will be described by the lecturer, who will also demonstrate the method of cutting them.

"The meat retailer has a big job," says Mr. Roth. "In 1934 the nation's retailers set an all-time high in selling meat. Meat moved across retail counters at the rate of 18 tons every minute at the year's retailers everywhere are anxious to keep abreast of the up-to-the-minute information in their field."

Mr. Roth's lectures and demonstrations are said to have won widespread popularity in all parts of the country for the entertaining manner with which he presents valuable information.

ROBINSON FORECASTS
FARM PLAN PASSAGE

keeping out cheaply produced farm imports.

An allotment plan giving producers of surplus crops the "benefit of the tariff on that part of their production consumed domestically."

Adequate appropriations for "sound soil conservation" and for federal acquisition for the public domain of "marginal lands" are also urged for agricultural production.

Federal Aid System.

The substitute AAA bills now pending in the senate and house provide for a dual system of federal aid. For two years, the secretary of agriculture would be given extensive powers to make grants to farmers for reclamation of eroded lands. A permanent program would then become operative with grants to states agreeing by law to do the same thing. In the third year, the secretary would be authorized to make a survey of farm products by requiring that some of the funds to be later appropriated shall be used to:

"Discourage the production of greater and more stable national wealth in the form of supplies of agricultural commodities adequate to maintain domestic consumption at the normal levels of the period 1920 to 1929, with allowance for exports, increased population and trends in the domestic consumption of agricultural commodities."

Connally Proposal.

Senator Connally, democrat, Texas, proposed as a supplement, not as a substitute, the export debenture plan which is favored by such republicans as Senator McNary, of Oregon, the minority leader, and Borah, republican, Idaho. The latter told a press conference there was serious doubt about the constitutionality of the temporary feature of the pending bill.

The Connally amendment would: Give the surplus-producing farmer a debenture certificate or bounty equal to half the tariff on a commodity similar to the one he exports. (In the case of cotton, the subsidy would be set at 4 cents a pound; corn 1-2 cents; rice one-half cent; tobacco 2 cents, and wheat 21 cents a bushel. The certificates could be used to pay customs duties, and could also be redeemed at the treasury for 98 cents on the dollar.)

Trix O'Conner, former stage magician once billed as "The Great Laurant," now is one of the favorite restaurateurs on the Iowa State College campus. His popularity centers in his sleight-of-hand tricks and stunts of magic he uses to entertain the students during meals.

JUDGE ABRAM COZART PASSES AT COLUMBUS

Rites Will Be Held Today for Prominent Georgia
Attorney.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Funeral services for Judge Abram W. Cozart, 65, well-known local and Georgia attorney who died here suddenly last night, will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at a local mortuary.

Rev. Osmond F. Cook, pastor of St. Paul Methodist church, will officiate and interment will follow in Linwood cemetery.

Members of the Columbus Bar Association will attend in a body.

Judge Cozart had been ill with bronchial pneumonia for several days, but his condition had been regarded as improved.

He was a former president of the Georgia Bar Association and the author of several books and pamphlets on law.

The son of A. W. and Martha Glenn Caldwell Cozart, he was born near Philadelphia, Tenn., June 14, 1870.

His father was a native of Kentucky while his mother was from Georgia.

He was the first recorder of Columbus, an office which he held for four terms. Since that time, for nearly 40 years, he has devoted his time to the private practice of law.

Expressions of regret at his passing were received today from prominent lawyers and jurists from all sections of the state.

Judge Cozart was a noted orator and had been invited to speak in all sections of the state on special occasions and memorials. He took an active part in state political affairs, but was never a candidate for public office himself.

He was a great student of Robert Burns and was a member of the Burns Club of Atlanta.

Judge Cozart is survived by his wife; three daughters, Mrs. W. L. Hudson, of Columbus; Miss Louise Cozart, Mrs. E. C. Terry, and one son, John G. Cozart.

UNUSUAL ACCIDENT

Caroline Killed as Towed
Truck Rams Vehicle.

SPRINGFIELD, Ga., Feb. 7.—(AP)—An unusual accident brought death last night to George Belk, of Charlotte, N. C., 29-year-old driver of a tow truck.

Reports to police said Belk was towing a heavy disabled truck behind his own lighter machine. He made a sudden stop and the truck in the rear collided with the front one and became fouled in the tow line.

This caused Belk's machine to overturn and he was pinned beneath it. He died while two men tried to extricate him.

3 SAVANNAH YOUTHS HELD IN MOBILE JAIL

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Four youths, who Solicitor Bart B. Chamberlain said confessed assault of a filling station operator at Grand Bay, Ala., near here yesterday, were in the Mobile county jail today on charges of assault with intent to rob.

The boys were booked by officers as Eugene Franklin Adams, 16; John Dukes, 17, and Charles William Groover, 15, all of Savannah, and James W. Halloway, 19, of Somerville, Mississippi.

Dukes is alleged to have hit Walter Smith, proprietor of the filling station, with a pistol as Smith was making change after the boys purchased gasoline. Dr. J. N. Thresh, who treated Smith, said he suffered severe contusions about the head, but Smith's condition was not considered critical.

Smith fired one shot as the attackers sped away. No date for trial of the defendants has been set.

AGENT AT MANCHESTER IS KILLED BY ENGINE

MANCHESTER, Ga., Feb. 7.—George Powers, 65, station agent here for the Atlanta, Birmingham & Coast railroad since 1910, was killed when he was struck by a switch engine.

According to witnesses, Powers was walking along the track and as the engine approached a section of track and his crew shouted a warning to him, which he apparently did not hear. His body was badly mangled.

He was prominently a member of the Methodist church and of the Odd Fellows' lodge.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. H. M. Minge, of Woodbury, and Mrs. Ethel Moore, of Etowah, Ala.; three sons, George Jr., of Florida, Ernest and Cecil Powers, of Manchester.

MEETINGS ANNOUNCED FOR SALVATION ARMY

Meetings to be held tomorrow by Salvation Army corps were announced yesterday. The temple corps will hold a company meeting at 9:45 o'clock; holiness meeting at 11 o'clock; and salvation meeting at 7:45 o'clock.

Corps No. 3 will hold a company meeting at 9:45 o'clock; open air meeting at 10:30; holiness at 11 and salvation at 7:45; Corps No. 4 will hold a company meeting at 9:45 o'clock; open air at 11 and at 7, and salvation at 7:45. The corps in Lakewood Heights will hold a holiness meeting at 11; company at 3, and salvation at 7:30.

Columbus Lawyer Dies

ABRAM W. COZART.

DR. ALLEN INDICTED
IN DEATH OF WIFE

Grand Jury Charges Murder of Mate to Hoschton Physician.

JEFFERSON, Ga., Feb. 7.—(AP)—An indictment charging Dr. M. B. Allen, prominent Hoschton physician, with murder of his wife has been returned by the Jackson county grand jury and witnesses for the trial have been subpoenaed for next Monday.

C. T. Storey Jr., clerk of superior court, said it had not been determined definitely if Dr. Allen would be called to trial Monday, since another case also is on docket for the same day.

Storey said indictments charging Raydo Bailey, James Samples, R. M. Samples and Ralph Allison with the "torch death" of Lawrence Barrett, 57, a farmer, also were returned by the grand jury. He said witnesses in this case also had been called for Monday.

Charges against R. M. Samples and Ralph Allison were dismissed recently at a preliminary hearing.

Mrs. Allen died in an Athens hospital the night of October 18 where she was taken October 17 suffering from a bullet wound.

Sheriff R. M. Culbertson said he had been told the shooting was accidental.

LAST INMATES TAKEN FROM WELFARE ISLAND

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The last prisoners from the historic city penitentiary on Welfare island in the East river were removed today to the new prison at Riker's island.

The 110-year-old institution, scene of many spectacular riots and jail deliveries, will be turned over to WPA workers for demolition in a few days.

COUNT OF COVADONGA SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

HAVANA, Feb. 7.—(UP)—Alfonso, the Count of Covadonga, who renounced his rights of succession to the Spanish throne to wed a Cuban commoner, was slightly improved tonight, but his condition remained critical from a malignant tumor and hemorrhage.

The romantic, 28-year-old prince has been near death since early this week as result of uncontrollable bleeding from an abscess on his thigh.

STATE DEATHS

MRS. GILLIE AKINS.
BARNESVILLE, Ga., Feb. 7.—Mrs. Gillie Elliott Akins, 54, wife of the late Jacob Akins, widely known resident of Barnesville, passed away at her home here on Forsyth street, after having been ill over a few days.

Mrs. Akins was probably one of the oldest residents of Spalding and Lamar counties. Her late husband served in the War Between the States and was a resident of Barnesville for many years.

Funeral services were conducted at her home by Rev. Harry Smith and Rev. Nathaniel Thompson and interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

She is survived by four daughters, Misses Alice, Edna and Jessie Akins, and Mrs. J. D. Summers, of Barnesville; four sons, Walter, John, James and William; and a grandson, John Akins, of Liberty Hill. She leaves 25 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Monday at the home of Mrs. Akins, 1015 S. E. 1st St., Savannah.

JOHN L. MARKET.
LAGRANGE, Ga., Feb. 7.—John L. Market, 41, died at a local hospital yesterday afternoon following a brief illness.

Funeral services were held this morning at the funeral chapel of Hunter and Owen, local morticians. Rev. A. E. Dallas, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated and burial took place in Shadow Lawn cemetery.

A native of Troup county, Mr. Market was a member of the Lorraine lodge, a number of years and had for the past several years been connected in business with a motor company as salesman.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Dora Cline Market; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Market; and two brothers, Grady and Joe Market, all of Lorraine.

DOUGLAS G. WILLIAMSON.
MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ga., Feb. 7.—Funeral services for Douglas G. Williamson, 57, World War veteran, whose death occurred at the residence Wednesday night, were held here this afternoon at the Mountville Methodist church, with Rev. R. H. Rowland, pastor of the Loyd and Mountville Presbyterian churches, officiating.

Mr. Williamson had been in ill health since his return from France, where he served with the American expeditionary force.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lois Fincher Williamson, of Mountain View, and a brother, Harry E. Williamson, of El Paso, Texas.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Monday at the home of Mrs. Williamson, 1015 S. E. 1st St., Savannah.

AAA SUBSTITUTE SEEN BY REP. PAUL BROWN

Tenth District Congressman
Says New Bill To Be Passed.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Representative Paul Brown today predicted congress would pass an early date a substitute for the AAA that would be beneficial to all farmers of Georgia.

He explained that under the old Agricultural Adjustment Administration the plan of using the base period from 1928 to 1932 as an index did an injustice to several counties of his state, especially to those counties where cotton was the only money crop.

"Many of these counties," he said, "formerly made from 15,000 to 30,000 bales of cotton in normal years. Under the former allotment plan these counties were held down to 6,000 and 7,000 bales. This, of course, was due largely to the ravages of the boll weevil from 1922 to 1932, and many people being encouraged by prominent farmers and agricultural colleges, voluntarily reduced their cotton crop."

As a result of this situation, he declared, many left cotton and planted other crops.

The timber is gone, the dairy business is not so profitable in many communities and no profitable markets could be found for other crops. Therefore, a considerable number of our farmers did not receive all the benefits of the AAA which were given to people in other sections of the cotton belt.

Representative Brown insisted that whatever farm program is enacted, the base years should be those years made at least a normal crop of cotton.

As introduced in both senate and house, the new farm bill provides for such a basis of allotment and payment that any future farm program can be found on a fair and just allotment to counties on the basis of their fully representative years of production, he said.

MAN SHOT BY CHIEF LOSES FUND SUIT

Mill Worker, Wounded by Sturdivant During Strike,
Sued Railroad.

The court of appeals held yesterday that George Bates, a cotton mill worker, is not entitled to damages from the Southern Railway as a result of being shot by Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant during the textile strike last year.

Bates sued the railroad, alleging that he was due damages because Chief Sturdivant was directed to shoot by W. W. Sims, an agent of the railroad. The Southern demurred, holding that it was not responsible for the action of the chief. The Fulton superior court upheld the demurrer and the decision was sustained by the high court. Bates had sought $10,000 damages.

The high court ordered trial of a suit for $30,000 against the railroad by Mrs. Joseph D. Edwards, whose husband, a switchman, was killed last year at the Ponce de Leon avenue crossing near the Ford plant. The superior court also had upheld a demurrer in this case but the decision was set aside by the court of appeals.

FEDERAL MEN SMASH HUGE NARCOTIC RING

HOUSTON, Texas, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Federal operatives smashed today "the biggest narcotic ring in the southwest."

Four men were arrested and $10,000 worth of narcotics seized as the climax of a six-month underworld investigation. The ring, according to operatives, was powerful in the major cities of Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Joe Linko, rated by agents as the kingpin, was in jail here. Three other men were held in Galveston and agents combed the underworld for co-conspirators.

James J. Higgins, district supervisor of the Federal Narcotic Bureau, said H. J. Anslinger, of Washington, United States commissioner of narcotics, personally directed the operations.

"We have broken the biggest narcotic ring in the southwest," Higgins said, "and we have the southwest's biggest wholesaler under arrest."

SPEAKER RIVERS LAUDS ROOSEVELT POLICIES

EATONTON, Ga., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Speaker E. D. Rivers, of the state house of representatives, praised the New Deal here yesterday in an address before the Eatonton Kiwanis Club.

Mr. Rivers was introduced by Representative F. S. Batchelor Sr., as "the great governor of Georgia."

The speaker said the "reactionary element" in this country, "that is, the republican party, keeps crying about states' rights and amendments to the constitution."

"We would at least amend the constitution by ballot and not by the bayonet, sword and with bullets as that same crowd did during the Civil War," he continued.

He said "all the fundamentals of the Roosevelt policies are sound, but of course there have been mistakes and injustices. However, we must not be misled by details but must follow the fundamentals of humanity as outlined by the President of the United States."

MAN, 88, IS ARRESTED IN STEPSON'S SLAYING

KEARNEY, Mo., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Jacob T. Ficus, 81, was shot to death here today and police arrested his 88-year-old stepfather-in-law, Zenas Frank Milburn.

Milburn married Ficus' 20-year-old stepdaughter May 20, 1934. After two or three months they separated and last year she filed suit for divorce, asking and obtaining a court order for support of her two-month-old son.

Joe Thompson, town marshal, said Milburn told him he shot Ficus after the latter attempted to choke him.

CUT IN FIREMEN'S PAY IS DEFENDED BY CITY

Savage, in Reply to Nance-
Harper Suit, Claims No
Cause of Action.

A. Steve Nance and J. A. Harper, labor leaders, who last week filed a mandamus petition to force the city to pay firemen basic salaries, suffered no pecuniary loss and had no cause for the action, it was alleged in demurrers filed for the city yesterday in Fulton superior court by City Attorney Jack Savage.

Nance and Harper contended that the firemen's pay was set by referendum and could not be reduced by city council. They charged that the city is paying the firemen 10 per cent under the basic pay and listing the reductions as "voluntary contributions."

The city attorney set forth the firemen are the only persons who would have the right to file such a petition, and that they have the right to contribute their salaries as they please.

Savage declared the contributions made are uniform with the reductions given other city employees and that all were necessitated by the depression.

U.S. AND CANADA SURE OF PLACES IN HOCKEY PLAY

America Beats Switzerland, 3-0; Canada Routs Latvia, 11-0.

By Gayle Talbot.

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The United States and Canada clinched places in the second round of hockey competition today while Norway's famed skiers walked off with the first two individual titles of the fourth winter Olympics and the flames of a new controversy spluttered.

No sooner had the row engendered by Canada's protest over the eligibility of two players on the British team been settled by their reinstatement than the figure skaters broke into a rash of complaints over the fact they haven't been given any place for practice.

Adding further to the woes of the harassed organizing committee, an indefinite postponement of bob-sledding competition, scheduled to start tomorrow, was ordered because of the poor condition of the run.

America's hopes of challenging Canada as Olympic hockey champion soared after the burly United States array, immensely effective on defense, had checked Switzerland's dazzling attack and won, 3-0.

Canada, meanwhile, ran through Latvia, 11-0, without even getting a good workout and remained the big favorite.

These victories automatically clinched places for the twin favorites in the next series of round-robins, although each has another match in the first series yet to play.

GREAT BRITAIN. Great Britain, which had threatened to withdraw from hockey competition after James Foster and Alex Archer were declared ineligible, as a result of a Canadian protest, won two victories during the day.

Their first triumph resulted in the reinstatement of the two players after Canada had withdrawn its protest. The second came on the ice, where the British, with Foster and Archer in the lineup, turned back Sweden, 1-0.

Birger Rund and Laila Schou-Nilssen sent Norway off to a flying start in the race for the unofficial team championship by capturing the men's and women's 3,000-meter downhill ski races.

Handicapped by an injured ankle, Dick Durman, of Tarpon Springs, Fla., and Dartmouth University, the leading American contender, finished 11th in the men's event. Elizabeth Woolsey, of New Haven, Conn., finished 14th to lead the American team of four.

EXCELLENT SHOWING. Germany made an excellent showing in both races, taking four of the first six places in the women's and three of the first six in the men's to score a total of 22 points, exactly the same as Norway's.

While these competitions were going along smoothly, the figure skaters protested vigorously because they fear lack of practice will cost them the fine edge of form they have worked so hard to attain.

British, Canadian and American representatives threatened to pack up and leave after a party of them had walked a mile to Riesser lake, only to be denied admittance. Both the lake and the ice stadium have been barred to the skaters, temporarily, since both are being used for hockey.

MANY ACCIDENTS. Postponement of the bob-sledding competition had been freely forecast after a series of practice spills and injuries to at least a dozen contestants. Most accidents occurred at Bavaria curve. Officials rushed repairs there today but the competitors among them J. Hubert Stevens, American leader, maintained there was a serious structural fault.

WATKINSVILLE. Watkinsville, Ga., Feb. 7.—Watkinsville will seek victory over the Purple Hurricane, of Monroe High school, here Saturday night in one of the main attractions of tenth district ice circles.

BERG AND MILEY IN FINAL ROUND OF GOLF MEET

Girl Sensations Defeat Orcutt and Hill in Miami Biltmore.

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Feb. 7.—(AP)—A pair of youngsters rapidly scaling the heights of golf fame—Patty Berg, of Minneapolis, and Marjorie Miley, of Lexington, Ky., fought their way today to the 36-hole final of the fourth annual Miami Biltmore women's amateur tournament.

By identical margins, 1-up, they accounted in semi-final play for two of the game's greatest veterans, Mrs. Opal S. Hill, of Kansas City, and Mrs. Maureen Orcutt-Crews.

After losing three of the first four holes, the plucky 17-year-old Minneapolis girl settled to her work and, racking up five birdies in the rest of the 18-hole round, eliminated Mrs. Hill on the 18th green.

The tall, dark and handsome Miss Miley likewise carried to the final hole before winning. A dead style she laid Mrs. Crews at the 18th was the margin of her victory.

Miss Berg, the stocky red-headed girl who reached the final of the last national, won the championship of club champions event at Punta Gorda, Fla., last week and topped medal honors in qualifying play here, started doggedly, losing the first, second and fourth holes to be 3 down. It was the first time she had been behind since much play here started.

Miss Miley, the long driver who won the Kentucky state and trans-Mississippi, among other titles last year, was one down at the end of the first nine holes of her match with Mrs. Crews, five-time Metropolitan champion and winner of numerous other events in her long career.

Boys like him. You can't fool a boy. Not very long, at any rate. And they know him to be honest and sincere. Which is why the Vanderbilts always went for him in a big way. There was nothing shallow, small or smug about him.

He was quite a tackle. Quite a tackle. There may have been tackles as good as Josh Cody. But none better. He could do everything. In addition to playing a great game of tackle, he was a place-kicker of merit. And how he could tear up a line!

I think it was the Auburn Plainsman which wrote, upon Cody's graduation from Vanderbilt:

Josh, old friend,
We held you dear as breath of dawn.

But Josh, old friend,
Thank God you've gone.

He had been a thorn in the side of all his football foes all his college days. And as a coach, he has been a pronounced success.

He will require a little time at Florida. But the Florida people will find the team improving. And if they get him the material he will give them a great team.

He coaches basketball well enough to have teams in the championship running at all times. And he is a fine baseball man. It's difficult to find a job he doesn't do well.

THE P. G. A. PROTECTS. It is a bit embarrassing to find our town still trying to scrape up $3,000 for an open golf tournament while Thomasville has had the money for months and is all set for their tournament this next week.

The P. G. A. boosted the ante in a very smart move. They require $3,000 for a week-end tournament. The early or midweek tournaments may be had for smaller prices with no real entry list guaranteed. But the week-end competitions, with most of the stars present, costs $3,000. It's worth it.

There is no reason why major golf tournaments, if properly handled, will not pay for themselves. Provided, of course, there is a population center nearby.

The Thomasville tournament may be featured by the appearance of George Herman (Babe) Ruth. If so, it should be a financial success. It may be without him.

The golf fan is the most pop-eyed fan of them all. He is the only one willing to pay a fancy price for the privilege of running and racing about the fairways, following his favorite star. He is a curious fan, the golf nut. Rain worries him not. Nor heat.

Of all the sports nuts, such as the baseball nut, the football nut and the horse racing nut, the golf nut is the most faithful.

NO RESENTMENT. One might think the golf nut would resent the fact that these men, who have no more arms or legs than he, can do things with a golf ball that he, the golf nut, cannot.

Yet he does not resent a thing. He is there in open-mouthed awe and wonderment. Now and then he may be seen to step aside and go through a swing with an imaginary golf club. Maybe a grin comes over his face. He thinks he has found the secret. Or maybe frowns and swears again. It has eluded him. But off he goes, tramping after his star and watching him in pop-eyed wonder.

He sees something worth seeing—providing one is interested. The golf star, the really good one, provides an excellent bit of entertainment.

THE BEST SPORTS ORGANIZATION. The P. G. A., which translated freely means the Professional Golfers' Association, easily is the best of all sports organizations.

And the P. G. A. golfers are, I think, the finest lot of athletes and the finest lot of fellows, taken generally, and remembering there are exceptions to all rules, in sport.

There is more amateur spirit in the P. G. A. tournaments than in most amateur tournaments. The competition is deadly and keen, as it should be. But the spirit is an amateur spirit.

FOR THE TOURNAMENT'S SAKE. For the tournament's sake, I hope the Gaddy is there. I mean Gene Sarazen, the Little Sardine. He will have at least half his fellow professionals steaming with rage before the tournament is a day old. Or maybe before it has started. And he will be in most of the headlines and all the stories.

The Gaddy made the error, in his last verbal explosion, of being on unsound ground. He couldn't reply. But he's news, grist in the publicity mill. And very fine grist at that.

He has been training, I understand, at Tarpon Springs, playing golf and riding a bike for the legs. He is shooting for the big open tournaments of this country and of England next year. And, of course, the Masters' at Augusta. He won it last year following that great double eagle, a deuce on a long par-five hole. That upset Craig Wood. He hasn't been up there since.

Athens Quintet Faces Big Test

ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 7.—Athens High, for the past three years ruler of Class B basketball in the tenth district, may be dethroned in the forthcoming district tournament this year.

There are four teams with formidable records that Athens will have to conquer before it can claim the championship for the fourth straight season.

Harwell, Watkinsville, Elberton and Carnesville are all Class B members, and one of the four will probably emerge with the conference title.

Harwell and Watkinsville each have two victories over Athens High, while Elberton lost a close decision to the champions last week, 27 to 23, in a big upset.

Georgetown Stops N. Y. U. Quintet

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(UP)—Georgetown University's basketball team tonight stopped the winning streak of the New York University five by scoring a 36-34 victory in a rough and tumble game.

It was the first defeat for N. Y. U. this season.

The visitors took a 3-0 lead during the first few minutes of the game, but Georgetown soon took the advantage and never was headed although the Violets made a tremendous final push to push ahead as the game ended.

At the half, N. Y. U. was trailing, 24 to 14.

Donald Gibson and Harry Eakin, Georgetown forwards, were leading scorers and held William Rubinstein, New Yorker star forward, almost scoreless.

SEEK MEMORIAL TO DAN M'GUGIN

Executive Body To Propose Scholarship as Tribute to Mentor.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Establishment of "Dan McGugin scholarships" as a memorial to the late Vanderbilt University athletic director will be recommended by the executive committee of the Vanderbilt Athletic Association Monday night.

Dean Fred J. Lewis, the committee's secretary, said the endowed scholarships would be awarded each year "to students of promise in scholastic and athletic ability."

"The executive committee feels that such a memorial will be more fitting to the memory of Dan McGugin than any other form," Dean Lewis said. "At the time of his death Mr. McGugin was working on a plan for such scholarships and had proposed to contribute substantially to the fund himself."

"It is the belief of the executive committee that this proposal is but taking up and completing the unfinished plan of Dan McGugin."

Mr. McGugin died suddenly last month after more than 30 years' connection with Vanderbilt athletics, both as head football coach and athletic director.

"Between the squealing of pigs and the moaning of cows on his 80-acre farm, Daffy suggested the Cards could start hoisting the pennant most any time now, with Chicago, New York and Pittsburgh looking on from first division berths."

"Frankie Frisch is the smartest man in baseball," quoth Farmer Dean. "He'll bring us in all right. I see where Diz says he's good for 26 games this year. I tell you, Diz could win 30 if he wanted to."

"I won't say exactly how many I'm gonna win but I'll be trying for all of 'em. It should be better than the 19 games I won last year."

Daffy Says Dizzy Should Rank Higher Than Fourth Place Among 'Big Men' of Country.

GARLAND, Texas, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Paul (Not so Daffy) Dean leaned against a plow on his farm here today and allowed his pitching arm never felt better—and his farm was worth more.

The younger brother of Jerome (Dizzy) Dean definitely announced that his efforts this season were going to cost the St. Louis Cardinals considerable more dollars.

"I haven't gotten my contract yet," said Daffy. "But it's gonna have to be bigger than it was last year. They tell me I'm too young to be making so much money. Well, I'm old enough to win a danged lot of ball games for 'em."

"Last year they told me that a young player never came to the big leagues and made more in two years than I did. You know what I told 'em? I told 'em they never had any Paul Deans up there before."

Modestly, Paul gave "Diz" most of the credit for the success of the Deans and Dean combine.

"I haven't heard from Diz lately but I know he'll be asking for a big raise in salary. Gosh, Diz is worth $40,000 to the Cards, or any other ball club. If they ever 'lost him' they'd just have to shut the ball park gates."

"Say, did you hear that fellow on the radio the other night rank some of the country's big men? Well, he had President Roosevelt first, of course, and Diz in fourth place. That was swell—only fourth is a little low for Diz."

"Between the squealing of pigs and the moaning of cows on his 80-acre farm, Daffy suggested the Cards could start hoisting the pennant most any time now, with Chicago, New York and Pittsburgh looking on from first division berths."

GEORGIA BEATS 'GATOR QUINTET BY 40-32 SCORE

Frank Johnson Stars for Bulldogs With 21 Points.

By Felton Gordon.

ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 7.—On wings of Frank Johnson's accurate goal-shooting ability, Georgia's basketballers tonight turned back Coach Ben Clemson's fighting Florida quintet, 40-32, in the first tilt of the two-game series here.

Johnson was responsible for 22 points. Trying 25 field goals, the mighty Rockford (Ill.) forward made good 10 to enhance his Southeastern conference leadership bid.

two-point Gator lead which soon vanished. Half-time found the Bulldogs at the bid end of a 20-11 score.

Rangy Jack Farren, Georgia center, started off the scoring bee one minute after the game opened. The visitors held their own until Frank Johnson, who got off to a slow start, opened his bombardment. Except for an occasional goal by Andy Anderson it was Johnson and the Florida boys the rest of the first half.

The Red and Black maintained at least a seven-point lead throughout the second half. Coach Rex Enright injected his second string into the game in closing minutes. Gordon, a Florida substitute, with Lee Richards, Georgia forward, displayed a little magic to keep the closing minutes alive. Richards made shots from all positions. Gordon drew applause by dropping in two long-range set shots.

Georgia meets the Florida crew Saturday night here in the final game of their four-game series. The Enright men took the first two games in Gainesville.

WORRY OVER SPINACH FOR CHILDREN DECRIED

Child Welfare Conference Addressed by Newark Juvenile Clinic Director.

By W. M. PEPPER JR., Associated Press Staff Writer.

Less parental concern over whether Johnny eats his spinach was advocated yesterday by a prominent pediatrician who described a new movement to induce many families to decentralize interest in the child.

"We are trying to reconstruct a situation that was a perfectly natural one in earlier days," Dr. James S. Plant, director of the Essex county juvenile clinic at Newark, N. J., told the southern regional conference of the Child Welfare League of America.

"In the past food was placed on the table and Johnny ate it because mother didn't have time to pay attention to those things."

He said he was not talking against case work and understanding children, but added "we are making a great deal out of something that had better be left alone to flow along in its own course."

Dr. Plant said much of the present day juvenile delinquency is caused by "over regulation" of children.

"Many children who are becoming delinquent are trying to get hold of life, to get responsibilities. It is a definite field of challenge that you and I must let children have more time to grow, to live, and to work out their own problems."

"Children don't want to be bad. The eyes of a little boy are bright after he has stolen a bicycle because he has lived. Running away involves responsibilities."

Many present day children lack a sense of responsibility because they see life only in segments and "never get a cycle of things," Dr. Plant continued.

"If you asked a boy 50 years ago where pork came from he would tell you from the pig, but now most children will tell you it comes from the butcher."

"There is not a thing the child sees in his daily life where he sees the beginning or the end. We can't even be born or die in our homes any more."

The pediatricist said the removal of the functions of the family such as baking and sewing has left little but the "love tie" to hold families together.

Up to a generation ago, he added, children realized the family existed to have someone to cook and sew and perform the other functions, but "children are now wondering what it's all about."

He said artificial efforts to give children responsibility, such as boy patrols, "don't fool the child."

The need for creating a proper environment for the children of unmarried mothers was stressed in a talk by Miss Irene Lamkin, director of the children's service bureau, Charlotte, N. C.

Miss Lamkin, who was leading in legislation designed to give such children the same status as others, with the eastern states gradually adopting such measures and the southern states not quite so progressive.

Miss Gay B. Shepperson, Works Progress Administrator for Georgia, in discussing the needs of children in relief families, said that not only the depression but also "long-time neglect" of health, nutrition and economic opportunities had brought about suffering and distress.

She cited the various programs instituted in the state to improve conditions and expressed the belief "the people of this state have a better understanding of social and economic needs than ever before, and that there is a determination to improve such a condition."

'The Lady Consents' Is Charming at Fox

Variety, humor and high emotions mark the delightfully entertaining "The Lady Consents," which opened yesterday at the Fox theater.

Rapidly changing pace of clever, sophisticated comedy and sincere bursts of emotion, "The Lady Consents" has an unusually wide appeal.

Ann Harding has the more or less unique experience of being greatly in love with her husband, a young and successful physician, played by Herbert Marshall. The romance runs into a storm, however, when the wife discovers that her husband is becoming highly susceptible to the charms of a third party, played by Margaret Lindsay.

Thinking the situation out, in spite of her heartbreak, she concludes that the best thing to do is to give her husband up to the woman he loves. But she does an about-face when she learns the third party on the triangle is a scheming and unprincipled character. Then the fight really begins, with Miss Harding giving a fine characterization of a woman battling for her husband's affections while trying to save him from ruin.

Herbert Marshall, throws his force of personality and forensic skill into the part with triumphant results. Miss Lindsay plays her part with the technique of an artist.

A fine group of short subjects, comedies and news features complete a thoroughly entertaining bill.

Chatterton Triumphs In New Film at Rialto

"Lady of Secrets," which opened yesterday at the Rialto theater, brings Ruth Chatterton back to the screen, after a long vacation, with one of the most interesting character roles of her career.

Heart-stirring and intense, the drama promises to enjoy a run of several weeks, as several other Rialto features have.

"Lady of Secrets" is the story of a defeated woman living in the memories of the past. Miss Chatterton plays the part of Celia Whitaker and displays unusual artistry in her role.

A woman who suffers the pain of a lost love. Twenty years after her lover has died in the war and she has her daughter, Jane, and her memories. Maneuvers in family relations to avoid a scandal about Celia's daughter complicate matters to the point of tragedy, but the woman manages to save her daughter from ruining her life without revealing the family secret.

Jane decides to marry a man much older than she in order to spite her sweetheart. Celia's father selfishly urges the unwise marriage so that he may be financially benefited. But the "lady of secrets" exerts every power she has to prevent her daughter from suffering as she has.

Tragic and heart-rending in many spots, the photoplay is a highly dramatic and convincing production, and all successful elements, carries in it the spirit of truth.

An exceptional supporting cast includes Otto Kruger, Lionel Atwill, Lloyd Nolan, Marjorie Marsh and Robert Allen.

The Rialto management has secured a group of enjoyable short subjects special features and news shots to give "Lady of Secrets" the backing of an all-round good bill.

Eddy and MacDonald Score Hit at Grand

Nelson Eddy and Jeannette MacDonald score another triumph of vocal entertainment and fine acting in "Rose Marie," which began a week's run yesterday at the Grand theater.

Rudolf Friml's tuneful and unforgettable operetta, set against the beauty of the Canadian Rockies, gives moviegoers a treat of something fine and worth-while along with their entertainment.

"Rose Marie" gives the two singers an opportunity to repeat their success in "Naughty Marietta" and make the most of the opportunity, throwing themselves into the spirit of the songs and characterizations with unusual skill and thoroughness.

Gilda Gray, famous for her swaying hips, brings comedy into the picture when Miss MacDonald, as an opera singer, attempts to earn money singing in a dance hall where Miss Gray's brand of singing is much more in demand.

The opera singer plunges into the Canadian northwest to seek her husband, or who has crossed with the law. One escape after another follows her adventures.

Keeler and Powell Star In Film at Paramount

Keeler and Powell together always means a thoroughly delightful photoplay and "Shipmates Forever," which opened yesterday at the Paramount theater, makes that statement more certain of truth ever.

All the engaging appeal which Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler displayed in "42nd Street," "Gold Diggers of 1933," "Flirtation Walk" and other co-starring creations is given new force as the pair sing and dance their way through "Shipmates Forever."

Drama is not at all lacking in spite of the fact that thousands give their box-office vote in favor of the couple because of their song and dance numbers. Dick graduates from the position of a crooner in a New York casino to a cadet in the United States Naval Academy. Miss Keeler, playing the part of an orphaned daughter of a naval officer, is forced to earn her living by dancing in a night club. Fancy tap numbers by Miss Keeler, with the famous "Kiki" and "Kiki" dances, lead naturally into the plot, as do catchy songs by Powell.

Cadets, naval officers and battle ships are again seen in "Shipmates Forever," the main action, all as official as a government bond. Traditions of Annapolis, and stern laws of the high seas combine to give the story meaning. Barriers to love and hopes appear with life-like persistence, but they all clear away when the exciting action rushes to a climax with Powell dashing through fire and valiantly rescuing a shipmate and win himself a bride.

The usual entertaining bill of short features and comedy reels are found again this week at the Paramount to add to the entertainment.

BARFIELD WILL ENTER FULTON SHERIFF RACE

Publisher To Qualify This Morning; Makes Four-Cornered Battle.

Harry T. Barfield, publisher and printing establishment owner, will enter the race for sheriff of Fulton county today, it was learned from an authoritative source last night.

He will oppose Sheriff James I. Lowry, holder of the office for 20 years, and his entry this morning will make the race four-cornered.

Alderman J. C. (Mort) Aldredge and County Policeman Cal Bates are already qualified for the position.

As the sheriff's race was considered closed by political observers, Barfield's entry will come as a surprise.

It was said that Barfield will pay his $500 fee to Hewitt Chambers, secretary of the Fulton democratic executive committee, this morning just before the deadline for entries is reached at noon.

The new candidate is secretary of the Southern Sheriff's Association and is a student of law enforcement.

The complexion of the race for sheriff changes with the added entry. It will be one of the most heated of all in the March 11 primary.

The county commissioners' race, however, will undoubtedly hold the spotlight. Public interest. Commissioners George F. Longino and J. A. Ragsdale are opposed by Mayor Pro Tem. Ellis Barrett and Roy LeCraw, former candidate for mayor of Atlanta.

SOUTH AMERICA UNITES FOR COMMUNIST FIGHT

Nations Seek Greater Uniformity of Police Measures.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Uniform police measures by a half dozen or more South American nations for the repression of communist agitation appeared today to be likely within the near future.

Foreign ministers of these countries are already exchanging viewpoints preparatory to joint action, it was learned.

Chilean police announced today that more than 150 communist agitators have been arrested in that country in connection with a railway strike.

Brazil, it is understood, is taking the lead in international negotiations as a result of extremist uprisings there last November. It was Brazilian allegations that activities of the Third Internationale were centered in that soviet location at Montevideo that impelled Uruguay to break off diplomatic relations with the U. S. S. R.

At the same time Brazil communicated with Argentina which pledged solidarity in the repression of communist agitation.

Swedish folklore and customs will be preserved here by naturalized citizens and native Americans of Swedish descent through the recent organization of the Swedish Club of Atlanta, officials of the club declared yesterday.

Officers of the new club include Melvin E. Olson, president; Axel Sorenson, vice president; and Mrs. O. A. Ohlhauser, secretary and treasurer. The organization meeting was held Thursday night at the home of Mrs. O. A. Ohlhauser, 891 Rosedale road. The club will hold its next meeting Wednesday night, when plans for application for a charter will be discussed.

FLEEING CAR WRECKED; 3 OCCUPANTS ESCAPE Following a wild chase at 80 miles an hour through the southeastern section of the city, a sedan containing three negroes was wrecked in front of a grocery store at Solomon and Fraser streets at 11 o'clock last night when police fired several shots at the speeding car. The negroes leaped out and escaped.

The chase began at Georgia avenue and Conley street. Radio Patrolmen J. H. Parham and J. J. Masters pursued the sedan through many streets, and in and out of Grant park. A tire was struck by a bullet at Grant and Cherokee streets, but the car continued on a flat tire until the driver lost control in front of the grocery.

GREENVILLE SALESMAN BEATEN BY POLICEMEN

Investigation Ordered; Victim Suffered Possible Fracture of Skull.

E. W. Hammond, 36, of Greenville, S. C., a salesman, suffered a possible fracture of the skull early yesterday morning during an alleged brawl with three Atlanta patrolmen on Pine street, near Peachtree.

He was admitted to Grady hospital. His condition was reported last night as "fair."

Patrolmen G. M. Ellis, D. Sims and I. G. Cowan, in a signed report, said an argument followed when Hammond backed his automobile into a machine driven by Patrolman Ellis, the bumpers interlocking.

According to the report, Hammond drew a pistol and Patrolman Ellis wrested the weapon from him and struck him with it when Hammond attempted to strike the officer.

Charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct and carrying a pistol were placed against Hammond. Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant has ordered an investigation. The officers were not in uniform at the time of the incident.

HARRIS TO LECTURE AT MUSEUM OF ART

Atlanta Sculptor Will Give Illustrated Talk Tomorrow Afternoon.

Julian Harris, Atlanta sculptor, will deliver the first of a series of two lectures on sculpture at the High Museum of Art at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The lecture will be sponsored by the Atlanta Art Association and the Beaux Arts group of the Atlanta Studio Club.

The lecture title will be "History of Sculpture" and Mr. Harris will give an outline of sculpture from prehistoric times, leading up to his second lecture on Sunday, February 16. The theme for this will be "American Sculpture." His lectures will be illustrated with slides.

Mr. Harris' work is widely known and he has recently attracted attention by his designs for the naval armory building at Georgia Tech and his entrance for the new state penitentiary in Tullahoma county.

Members of both groups sponsoring the lecture are invited.

ATLANTA ST. HEAR POLISH JOURNALIST

Noted Writer Will Discuss Economic Situation of European Jews.

G. Glikinsky, European journalist and representative of the Yiddish Scientific Institute in Wilno, Poland, will address Atlanta Jews at the Workmen's Circle lyceum, 473 Capitol avenue, at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. His subject will be "What Is the Present Economic and Social Situation of Jews in European Countries?"

The journalist is touring Cuba, Mexico and the United States to explain the alleged persecution of European Jews. He is a member of the executive committee of the institute, which was organized in Berlin in 1925 to study Jewish problems and to preserve all materials mirroring Jewish life.

Members of the honorary board of the institute include such world-famous personages as Albert Einstein, Sigmund Freud, Simon Dubnow and Chaim Ziskindson. The largest section of the institute is in this country. Dr. Edward Sapir, of Yale University, heads the American committee.

SQUAD INCREASED

Five 'Secret' Agents Added in 'Bug' Fight.

Five additional men were named yesterday by Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant as members of a squad which will concentrate on activities aimed at stamping out the "bug" and other illegal "rackets" in Atlanta.

Names of the men were not disclosed. They will work secretly, and in pairs, under the direction of Detective Lieutenant J. A. McKibben. Appointment of the men brings the squad to a total of 10 men.

The special squad this week has had under surveillance a number of "bug spots," it was said.

Chief Sturdivant also revealed yesterday that he has conferred with Solicitor John McClelland, of Fulton criminal court, relative to judicial settlement of lottery cases.

He outlined the solicitor as expressing satisfaction with the present methods of handling the cases through the minor judiciary, adding that the solicitor said only those arrested who are actually engaged in the lottery business need be turned over to the higher courts.

GEORGE D. WATERS SR., PASSES AT RESIDENCE George Dana Waters Sr., 63, retired businessman, died Thursday night at his home in Forest Park. Mr. Waters retired from business in Ohio and moved to Atlanta 12 years ago. He had moved to Forest Park several months before his death.

He is survived by a son, George Dana Waters Jr., 2 daughters, Mrs. W. P. Harris, of Haynes City, Fla., and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Moeller, of Springfield, Mo.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the chapel of Howard L. Carmichael, with burial in Forest Park cemetery.

'Mayor' Barrett Forgets Commissioner Election It was "Mayor Barrett" yesterday at the city hall, a dauntless officer on March Key, who remained indisposed. Mayor Pro Tem. Ellis B. Barrett took time out from his campaign for county commissioner subject to the county primary March 11, and turned his attention to official duties.

Breeding into the executive suite at the city hall, Barrett appeared breathless. When asked why all the rush, he replied: "Haven't you heard that I'm going to be nominated county commissioner on March 11? I've been politicking a little. Just some preliminary stuff. It's going to be serious, however, after February 8 o'clock. It may be Mayor Barrett today, but it's going to be commissioner after March 11."

"I'm running my own race, independent of any clique or faction and regardless of whatever report may be circulated about me."

Mayor Key may return to his office today if the weather remains moderate. In the event of bad weather, he will remain at his home until Monday at least.

LEGION WILL BACK MELTON CANDIDACY

State Commander Ben T. Watkins Lauds Griffin Editor's Record.

Georgia Legionnaires will sponsor the candidacy of Major Quimby Melton, of Griffin, for national commander of the American Legion to the last man," Ben T. Watkins, of Macon, state commander, stated yesterday while here for sessions of the Legion's child welfare conference.

A resolution naming Major Melton as a candidate for national commander, to be presented at the convention of Legionnaires at Cleveland next fall, was adopted by post commanders and adjutants of camps throughout the state at a conference in Macon last month. Further plans were made by commanders and adjutants assembled here yesterday.

"We will back Melton 100 per cent," Watkins said. "It would be difficult to find a Legionnaire who has a better record than he."

Major Melton is widely known throughout the state as the editor of the Griffin News. He is a past state commander and a past national vice commander. He also was editor of the Georgia Legionnaire for two years.

During the war, he attended the first officers' training camp and went overseas as a captain in the 82nd division. He was promoted to the rank of major while serving in France.

TATUM CHILDREN SUE GAS COMPANY

$150,000 Damages Sought in Blast Deaths of City Clerk and Wife.

Suit for $150,000 against the Atlanta Gas Light Company was filed yesterday in Fulton superior court by Charles and Robley Tatum, 14 and 13, respectively, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. Henson Tatum, who were killed in a gas explosion January 4.

The action was taken for the two boys by their grandmother, Mrs. F. M. Kinard.

Mr. Henson, who was city clerk, died January 5, and Mrs. Tatum died January 8 of burns received in an explosion in their home at 2622 Murray hill avenue. The blast resulted from gas ignited as Henson turned on a light switch, the suit sets forth.

The sons charge the gas company with negligence in installing the gas fixtures.

Damages for the death of the father were set at $100,000 and for the mother, Mrs. Mae Queen, at $50,000. Walter A. Sims is attorney for the Tatum boys.

MRS. H. H. ROBERTSON PASSES AT RESIDENCE

Mrs. Josephine Robertson, 67, well-known church worker and member of the Central Baptist church, died yesterday morning at her home, 1855 Boulevard, N. E. She was the wife of the late H. H. Robertson.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Philip Coursey, Mrs. W. C. Chambers and Mrs. C. L. Mote, of Atlanta, and Mrs. G. B. Eberhardt, of Kansas City; four sons, Ernest and Charles D. Robertson, of Atlanta; Hugh Robertson, of St. Louis, and H. D. Robertson, of New Orleans; three granddaughters, Mrs. Carl Zude, of Birmingham; Mrs. C. Foster, of Atlanta, and Mrs. H. Foster, of West Palm Beach; a grandson, W. C. Chambers Jr.; two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Johnson, of Newnan, and Mrs. Carrie Pilkinton, of Atlanta, and a brother, Geo. Smith, of Sharpsburg, Ga.

Funeral rites will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Central Baptist church with the Rev. R. C. Huston officiating. Burial will be in Crest Lawn cemetery. Awtrey & Lowndes will be in charge of arrangements.

STORM SEWER WORK WILL BEGIN MONDAY

Storm sewer construction work in Atlanta will begin Monday, according to announcement from the district WPA office issued yesterday on the release of $161,500 as a starting fund for the project.

Construction work beginning Monday will be carried on in the Techwood section, employing between 75 and 100 men to begin with, with the probability of added help later, when more workers are needed and are available from other WPA projects.

Another portion of the storm sewer work is expected to be started soon in the Connelly street section. The city of Atlanta raised $500,000 in a bond issue for its share in the federal-aid storm sewer projects.

MRS. ED M. WHITE SR., 60, PASSES AT RESIDENCE

Mrs. Ed M. White Sr., 60, active member of Grace Methodist church, died yesterday afternoon at her residence, 408 Fifth street, N. E.

She is survived by her husband; four daughters, Mrs. Clarence Pitts, Mrs. Elmer McDonald and Mrs. Jack Reed, all of Atlanta, and Mrs. Ed W. Crawley, of Greenville, S. C.; one son, Ed M. White Jr., of Atlanta; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Merritt and Mrs. R. J. McGaughey, of Atlanta.

Final rites will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Spring Hill, with Dr. W. A. Shelton and the Rev. Marvin Williams officiating. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

BIG GAIN IS SHOWN IN FREIGHT LOADINGS WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The Association of American Railroads reported today loading of revenue freight for the week ending last Saturday totaled 621,839 cars, an increase of 37,148 cars, or 6.4 per cent compared with the preceding week.

Loadings showed an increase of 24,378 or 4.2 per cent compared with the corresponding week a year ago, and an increase of 56,438 or 10 per cent compared with two years ago.

FEDERAL TARIFF BODY WILL SUBMIT FINDINGS

Roosevelt To Get Report on Japanese Cotton Exports.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—After an exhaustive investigation covering nearly a year, the tariff commission said today it would report to President Roosevelt soon on Japanese cotton cloth exports to this country and their effect on domestic production.

Commission officials said the study, although centering on Japanese exports, also included an analysis of imports from other countries.

On the commission's findings will depend whether the President will order an increase in duties on cheaper grades of cotton cloth. The Japanese recently have greatly increased their sales of such cloth here.

At the present time Japanese cloth imports here are controlled only by a voluntary "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan pledging it will not make "excessive exports" to the American market.

Under the agreement the Japanese have maintained average shipments of approximately 3,000,000 yards a month during the last year.

In 1935 imports of cotton cloths from Japan were 36,444,294 yards valued at $1,723,333. That figure, compared with 1,115,713 yards valued at $78,000 in 1933, and 7,286,517 yards worth $363,043 in 1934.

The commission is also investigating imports of wool knit gloves and mittens, and side fasteners, in which the Japanese recently have made considerable inroads into the American market, and will submit reports to the President in the near future.

Total Japanese exports to this country last year amounted to $152,886,000 of which $30,000,000 was in raw silk.

Mrs. McAfee Addresses Welfare Conference on Juvenile Delinquency

In addressing the Area C, child welfare conference of the American Legion and Auxiliary at the Friday morning session in the Piedmont hotel, Mrs. Mary McAfee, of La Chapeau National Eight and Forty, a subsidiary organization of the American Legion Auxiliary, made a stirring appeal to fathers and mothers of America to go back to old-time discipline in the home. Mrs. McAfee, a probation officer of DuPage county, Illinois, and brought to her hearers a wealth of practical information pertaining to child training, choosing for her subject, "What Price Juvenile Delinquency?"

In the course of her speech Mrs. McAfee called attention to the drastic changes which have taken place in the home and social life saying in part: "The home and life are being supplanted by an era of high speed—high speed at work and play. Formerly the aim of each was the mastery of the fundamentals of the three R's—reading—writing—and arithmetic, but today another grouping of these letters is claiming the attention of our young people. The three R's which are bringing such conflicting emotions are the reel, radio and rumble seat."

Today from crowded homes of various racial and social backgrounds, youth often seeks its pleasures on the street, at commercialized amusements such as movie, dance hall, or tavern. The telephone affords quick means of making dates. The highpowered car which whisks youth quickly away from the group. Youth sees changing attitudes toward marriage, parenthood and divorce. They see what seems to be the crumbling of old social traditions and laying aside of old conventions. With such a setting how can youth be safeguarded?

"Civilization advances on the feet of the children. We can only hope to build a better social order through the development of the minds and character of each new generation. There are some 45,000,000 children in this nation today, and on their proper growth and training our whole future as a people depends. About 35,000,000 of these children are reasonably normal. The remaining 10,000,000 present social problems of one sort or another—a dangerously large proportion.

"The communities in which our children live must be kept clean of contaminating conditions which breed moral poison and furnish examples of violation of laws and bad conduct patterns, if our children are to grow up to clean, healthy good citizenship. These conditions of bad environment are the most prolific cause of delinquency and crime."

MRS. MARY McAFEE.

"My experience in the juvenile court indicates that in an overwhelming proportion of cases the home is directly or indirectly responsible for the child's difficulty. Youth does a vast and alarming amount of reading of undesirable publications. In recent years a veritable flood of undesirable literature fills the newsstands and a stream of corrupting influence pouring into the minds of our youth."

"The highest hope I can voice for you and the greatest success I can wish for you is that you may tread triumphantly the courts of God as you go forth to serve, and I wish you God-speed in your ministry of service to the youth of our land."

This morning's session of the conference will feature a school of instruction, conducted by Miss Emma Paschner, national director of the child welfare division of the American Legion. Miss Paschner has been in charge of the national child welfare work of the Legion since May 1, 1925. Previous to coming to the child welfare work of the American Legion she was employed as director of the St. Louis Board of Children's Guardians. She is a graduate of the Benton College of Law, St. Louis, and is a member of the Missouri bar. In September, 1933, Governor Paul V. McNutt, of Indiana, appointed Miss Paschner as a member of the Indiana State Probation Commission. This session is open to the public and all who are interested in child welfare are urged to attend.

Woman's Club Meets Monday for Reports And Election Plans

Atlanta Woman's Club meets on Monday at 3 o'clock in the banquet hall of the club, with Mrs. W. F. Melton, president, presiding. Executive board reports will be given by the assistant recording secretary, Mrs. E. L. Rowe, and also from various departments and division chairmen. The nominating committee for the incoming year will be elected at this meeting.

Committees and plans for the following attractions will be formulated: Ted Shaw and his dancers, who will appear in the early spring; Apollo choir boys, of Birmingham; Mrs. Alberta Summers, who presents one of Gilbert and Sullivan's light operas, and Lyman Beecher Stowe, who lectures in the early spring. Among other attractions scheduled at the club during February is the Town Hall In-Time, who will present two noted lectures, and the Writer's Club banquet.

After the business session, Mrs. T. C. Holbreuck, chairman of the Department of Narcotics, will introduce J. E. Munday, United States district attorney for the northern district of the state of Georgia. Mr. Munday is an interesting and forceful speaker and his subject will be "Narcotics."

Mrs. James Crawford Honors Bride-Elect.

A delightful compliment to Miss Suzanne Memminger, whose marriage to Hoke Smith Simpson will be a brilliant event of February 12, Mrs. James Crawford was hostess Thursday at tea at the Capital City Club.

The table was centered with a silver luster bowl of red roses and white lilies, and the centerpiece was surrounded by four smaller bowls of similar flowers. The valentine motif was carried out throughout the room, and valentines were used as place cards for the guests.

Invited were Misses Memminger, Elinor Memminger, Elizabeth Hopkins, Carroll Hopkins, Harriet Grant, Raymur Grant, Barbara Grant, Belle Meador, Mary Bryan, Jule McClatchey and Mesdames W. W. Memminger, Ed L. Wright, Jack Kalkbush, W. R. Massenaux, James L. Lippett, W. B. Roberts, Frank Flayer, William Connerat Jr., Bonneau Ansley, Jere Goldsmith, Enos Hartman and Robert Martin.

"Pot-Luck" Luncheon Is Given for Club.

The business meeting of the Peachtree Hills Woman's Club was suspended Wednesday and a "pot-luck" luncheon was enjoyed by its members at the home of Mrs. W. S. Willis, on Mobile avenue. Tea and coffee were served by the hostess. Members present were: Mrs. Herbert Cole and Mrs. C. T. Barrett. Mrs. J. V. Spauldinger was a visitor.

Plans were made for a benefit bridge on February 10 at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. L. Perryman, 60 Peachtree Hills avenue. Members will donate special prizes and there will be table prizes. Tables are $1 each, or 25 cents per person. The building fund will receive the proceeds. For reservations, call Mrs. Frank Harrison, Cherokee 3476. Reservations will be served.

Matrons and Patrons Club Is Formed.

On Tuesday evening the past matrons and patrons of North Atlanta Chapter No. 38, O. E. S., met at the home of Mrs. L. F. Marsh and formed a Past Matrons' and Patrons' Club of the chapter.

The officers elected were as follows: Mrs. Virginia Marsh, president; Mrs. Annie Mae Marsh, vice president; Mrs. Annie Mae Marsh, secretary and treasurer, and Miss Sallie Hancock, chaplain.

After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Annie Van dergrift won the prize for the ladies and R. M. Vandegrift the prize for the men.

The next meeting of the club will be at the home of the president, Mrs. Virginia Marsh.

Miss Pat Allen and Bill Finch Lead Tech Pan-Hellenic Ball

By FRANCES AUSTIN.

The Pan-Hellenic ball, the most brilliant of the Tech mid-term dance series, was held last evening at the school's naval armory. The decorating committee for the occasion ignored an ancient Tech tradition when they failed to use multicolored bunting draped from rafter to rafter against the ceiling. Instead, the armory was festooned with countless garlands of smilax and gayly-tinted balloons.

Under and around the smilax some 900 members of the college set danced to the spirited music of a well-known orchestra. Because of the large crowd and the consequent lack of space, it was necessary for the guests to continue their dancing to the collegiate "elephant step"—which is a rhythmic balancing from one foot to the other after the manner of that ruminative beast of the jungle.

Lead-Out Principals. At midnight the floor was cleared for the Pan-Hellenic lead-out, the grand march being led by dramatically beautiful Pat Allen, who danced with Bill Finch, the president of the council. Her gown featured a white satin in bodice ornamented with white satin veils and the sun-plaited chiffon skirt veiled white satin.

The couple was followed by Beebe Young costumed in crisp white tulle offset with rhinestone trimmings, who marched with Vice President Billy Ginn. Titian-haired and queenly Margaret Treacher was escorted by Frank Chapman, council treasurer, and she was clad in white lace posed over white satin. The council secretary, Culver Kidd, chose exotic-looking Cora Gault for his partner, and she was gowned in gold metal cloth fashioned on Grecian lines, with a cluster of gold grapes fastened in her dark hair to emphasize the classic effect. After the officers and their female partners passed in review members of the council accompanied by their dates, followed in their wake.

Seated on benches in front of the orchestra were several hundred guests who lacked the energy or inclination to struggle through the crowd on the dance floor. On one of these benches sat a couple of debutantes looking very lovely but ever-so-slightly aloof. Perched upon another bench were a number of boys whose entire attention was concentrated on Barbara Parks, pretty young blue singer.

An unrehearsed and unexpected floor show was staged by two couples whose ideas of dancing departed somewhat from the conventional. Their efforts brought forth a shower of pennies from the audience of surrounding dancers. Penny-throwing is a gesture of long-standing at Tech which is calculated to squelch anyone who becomes too individualistic in public.

B. & P. W. Club Will Hear Address By Fletcher Greene

Fletcher M. Greene, instructor of history at Emory University, will talk on the Ethiopian-Italian situation at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday evening at the Frances Virginia tea room.

Miss Blanche Wood, chairman of the international relations committee, is in charge of the program. Mrs. M. E. Tilley, president of the Cause and Cure of War Conference for Georgia, will review the finding of the cause and cure for war conference held in Washington in January. Mrs. Grace Lee Townsend, musical director of the club, will present a number of national anthems with a brief history of each. Mrs. Martha Clark, formerly a member of the Atlanta club, but now of Chicago, will sing.

At the business meeting held recently at club headquarters, it was voted to contribute $5 to the League of Women Voters to aid in the recent campaign to "get-out-the-vote" by impressing citizens with the necessity of registering now. The members voted to continue membership for the club in the Woman's Auxiliary of Grady Hospital. This membership is carried in the name of Mrs. F. C. McKinney, chairman of the social service committee.

The members authorized their president, Mrs. Flora Osburn, to write a letter of commendation in behalf of the club to the Atlanta Dogwood Festival Association and to offer their services to Mrs. Robert L. Cooney, director, to help make this festival an outstanding event.

Miss Ellen Douglass will serve as chairman of special activities for National Business Women's Week, March 15-21. Members of this committee are: Mrs. F. C. McKinney, decoration; Miss Mary Cavanaugh, treasurer; Miss Leita Thompson, publicity; Miss Ada Booth, education; Mrs. Kenneth L. Shaw and Miss Rebecca Shuman.

The following nominating committee was elected: Miss Mary Cavanaugh, chairman; Misses Ada Booth, Annie Stilton, Maude Sewell and Mrs. Mabel Abbott MacNeill. This committee will report of the March business meeting before the annual meeting and election in April.

Silver Cloud Council Installs Officers.

Silver Cloud Council No. 1, Degree of Pochontas, ladies' auxiliary of the Improved Order of Red Men, installed the following chiefs recently at Red Men's wigwam: Pochontas, Mrs. Harriet Caldwell; Wenona, Miss Mary Virginia Jones; Prophetess, Mrs. Adah Underwood; keeper of wampum, Mrs. J. B. Wilson; keeper of records, Mrs. Vera Norman; Powhattan, C. C. Gillett; first scout, Mrs. J. E. Tuttle; second scout, Mrs. Allen Sockwell; first runner, Mrs. Susie Raggsdale; second runner, Mrs. Sam Bell; first counselor, Mrs. R. E. Jones; second counselor, Mrs. R. C. Cassells; right supporter to Prophetess, Mrs. Ruth Hathcock; left supporter to Prophetess, Miss Stacia Haynie; warriors, R. E. Jones, R. C. Cassells and Frank F. Smith; guard of wigwam, Mrs. C. C. Gillett; and guard of forest, J. B. Wilson. The installing great chief was Mrs. Evelyn Tuttle, great Wenona of the Great Council of Georgia, assisted by Mrs. Cora E. Smith, great keeper of records of the Great Council of Georgia.

Reports from the various committees showed good work done for the past term and an increase in membership. The next meeting of the council will be held on Wednesday at 8 o'clock at Red Men's wigwam.

- MYSTERY HOUSE -

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

INSTALLMENT XII.

"Yes, know," Barnes Bishop replied. "But it looks to me as if all this crowd had gotten round old Mrs. Prendergast and were going to stick until they got something out of it. What are they going to do? All settle down with her in Connecticut? Look here, I'll tell you! If Mrs. Hibbs makes up her mind that she's got to see her aunt, I'll wire you. Would some one else get the wire first?"

"It would be telephoned. And if I hadn't prepared the way she'd be furious."

"Ha, that won't do then. I'll work out a cipher with you. What could I say?"

"Say—say, 'This is Elinor. Can you possibly get in for engagement shower for Betty on Monday?'"

"You're getting the idea!" the man said approvingly. "And listen, Mrs. Mockbe's grave will be—what'll we call it? We'll mean the grave when we say 'Betty's house.' And look here, if ever you get scared down there," Barnes added, "if ever there's danger say—say 'fingerbread.' That's easy to remember because it has 'danger' in it."

"How could I possibly put 'fingerbread' into a message?" Page asked, laughing.

"Ask for the gingerbread recipe," the man answered resourcefully. "Perhaps we could take Hand into our confidence? He has tremendous influence with her. He's naturally rather against her family," Page said. "He thinks they're all rather thrown her down, talked about her as if all they wanted was for her to die and leave them money. Her sister wrote years ago and wanted to borrow money when she married the swami, or whatever it was, and that made her furious. She then then there was something about a telegram—I don't know what it was, but she was sick, or else she wasn't sick, and Mrs. Hibbs wired her that if Aunt Minnie was ill she'd come at once, and that got her mad. She is touchy. I'll admit that."

"And meanwhile you are a wonderful person to have in the case," Barnes Bishop said thoughtfully, as she paused.

"Oh, heavens!" Page exclaimed. "I mean it. I think you are one of the most interesting girls I ever knew," the man reiterated, flushing. "You don't know me at all," Page said. "We've only seen each other once."

"Once is enough," the boy said quickly, with his pleasant flashing smile. Life could be exciting and satisfying and all pleasant, Page thought. Yesterday Rand's low fine voice telling her that he loved her; it was hopeless; nothing could come of it, but yet he loved her.

Now here was another man telling her that she had somehow gained in charm during this last strange month. Barnes Bishop, who was the junior member of a fine old firm, and who was nice, too! It was great fun to

He is the most—most beautiful human animal I ever saw in my life, with that golden hair, and the old shirt open at his throat.

"I didn't hear you, Lynn," she said patting his cheek.

The blue eyes, the blue sky, the white smile made a background for him as he looked seriously at her and repeated his question.

"Yes, I suppose I'm afraid of something—or other," Page answered, after smiling thoughtfully. "The first night I spent here I was afraid, or at least I thought I was going to be."

"I remember that first night," Lynn said.

"Pouring rain."

"Yes, and that hair was a little wet at the edges. And you were sort of blinking when you came into the room. You had on a blue dress, and you were sort of seeing the cuffs."

Lynn went on. He looked at her with his anxious placating smile; he did not want her to laugh at him.

"You remember all that?"

"I remember everything. Did I say—or did I just think I said you were terribly pretty?"

"You said it. It was the first time I heard your voice."

Lynn was silent, looking off at the sky. He might have been looking for a cloud that would bring a breeze. Page reflected hopefully, always anxious to put reason into what he said. Or he might just have gone vague again. They had taken the boat out for half an hour, and they were waiting now, after almost two hours of calm, for enough wind to make the short quarter mile to the pier.

"You see, that's the trouble, Page," Lynn said, in an anxious, bewildered voice; "that's what I meant by things that frighten you. I didn't mean robbers, or ghosts, or anything of the sort; it's you. You don't think that's frightening?"

He ended on the note she most dreaded to hear in his voice, a note of timid pleading, a child's entreaty for sympathy and understanding.

"But every one does that, Lynn," the girl exclaimed, hesitatingly. "That's nothing to feel frightened about."

"Yes, I know," he answered, "but it isn't only that. It's not knowing whether what you think is the real thing, or what you see. It's not knowing whether you're you, or if you ever were you—don't you see? That's what you're so confused. You dream a thing, and wake up and you're still partly dreaming, and what you try to say comes out all wrong—funny—and they all look at you."

His use of the second person always distressed her. It was as if, in his bewildered mind, he still had pride enough left to try to save his honor into the puzzle with him—make it general. Page smiled at him, and said comfortingly:

"I wouldn't even try to think. Just get well—you're so much better now than you were!—and gradually things will all come clear."

"But it's not getting better, you know."

"Why do you say that?"

"Because it's getting worse! I'm thinking more—queer kind of things."

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A LITTLE SATURDAY TALK.

While riding through the Kan-sas last month, I gazed at the prairies on either side of the railway tracks. There was hardly a patch of snow to be seen, and the country looked rather dreary.

The grass was yellow-brown and very "dead," and the few trees were bare of leaves. On the ground, however, were weeds of an interesting kind. They were not rooted, and were rolling about!

There were thousands and thousands of the weeds, and they rolled they seemed almost round in shape. Most of them appeared to be from 8 to 18 inches in diameter.

People often speak of weeds of this sort as "tumble weeds," and the name is good—for they do tumble around. The wind blows them far and wide, thus spreading the seeds.

The seeds take root in the next growing season, and the plants are fixed in the ground until they produce seeds. I had a chat with a Kansas farmer who was aboard the train.

"These tumble weeds," said the farmer, "are really Russian thistles. The Swedish settlers around here call them 'tassies,' and the Irish settlers speak of them as 'Cattle-eat-the-weeds,' and a field of them will make fairly good hay. They don't make much of a food, but they help if there's nothing better."

For miles and miles, the tumble weeds were in view. Most of them were rolling about, but some were picked off the ground by the wind and were blown for some little distance. I noticed that a few of them had been carried up until they had become lodged between telephone wires. Plants have many ways of spreading their seeds, and the method used by tumble weeds is one of the most interesting. I think.

A two-year-old boy with blue eyes and curly golden hair was scrambling around the observation car of my train. A passenger spoke to him and asked: "Are you a little tumble weed?"

"No!" replied the little fellow, and his voice had such a tone that all could know he did not want to be classed in the weed family.
